POWER COMPANIES INVOLVED IN COURT BATTLE

RETURN POWER TO PEOPLE, IS G. O. P. TOCSIN

Purpose of State Convention at Oshkosh Explained by Chairman Blanchard

PARTY MUST LOOK AHEAD

Call on Republicans to Wrest Government Away from Madison Men

Oshkosh—Calling on the rank and file of the Republican party in Wisconsin to unite solidly behind the new movement to wrest from "bureaucratic" powers at Madison the reins of government and place the again in the hands of those who believe in the Republican platform, Assemblyman George W. Blanchard, Edgerton, permanent chairman of the state Republican convention here Thursday, sounded the keynote of the ensuing senatorial campaign and the call for state political action.

The convention, Mr. Blanchard said, was called into being, not simply because there was a vacancy from Wisconsin in the United States senate, but because of the "contingent threat and menace in Wisconsin which not only nullifies and destroys Republican principles and handicaps the administration of its declared policies," by President Coolidge, but by legal practices and statutory usurpations practically disfranchising a great section of the voters, giving them no means of expressing their political faith.

PURPOSE IS TWO-FOLD

The plans and purposes of the convention, the speaker said, must of necessity be two-fold:

1. To reaffirm those principles which are basic and the confession of faith in the Republican party.
2. The convention must provide a place for thousands in Wisconsin who,
regardless of party affiliation or association, demand that government in Wisconsin be restored to its original purpose; that it no longer be a vehicle for the elevation of mere political ambitions to the hurt and detriment of the people, and finally to establish a concord of interest in all that is good for the state.

If the convention were to take up merely the matter of endorsing a candidate for the United States senate, without first concerning itself with the reasons which brought about the assembly, then that government in Wisconsin be restored to its original purpose; that it would be better to ad-
join the convention without action,
"proclaiming to the world that the door of political hope in Wisconsin is forever closed."

Political control exercised in Wisconsin for many years, Mr. Blanchard asserted, was obtained and maintained
through fraudulent use of the party name by those who in action or intent are not in accord with Republican principles.

Not only have they not been in accord with, but they have sought by every means the defeat of the principles of the party whose name they have assumed and whose legal machinery is in their hands," the speaker charged. "They have not tried to reconstruct the republican party, but to destroy it. Out of the usurpation has come a cabal of political dictators, far removed from the council of the people and in violation of every fundamental principle of our plan of government."

"Once there was an appeal to the people. That day has passed. Once there was frank statement of the reasons for every action. That is now a matter of history only. The place of the people has been wholly usurped.
"The people of Wisconsin no longer say what shall be done; they are told what they shall do.

"It is in the face of this intolerable situation that we have met here in convention—a convention of the people of our state and here under this banner we invite every citizen of Wisconsin who believes in true, free government—by the whole people,
and of the people, to enlist."

NEAR LOOK AHEAD
The convention as seen by Mr.
Blanchard must be something else
than a protest meeting of disappointed republicans. It should look ahead to the future of the state and the nation be declared.

Comprising the economy and taxation programs of the state and federal government, Mr. Blanchard pointed out that with the exception of Senator Irving L. Lenroot, not a member of Wisconsin's delegation in congress can lay claim to participation in

NAB 11 SUSPECTED OF IMPLICATION IN AUTOMOBILE RING

Sturgeon Bay—Eleven residents in the southern part of door-co were arrested here Wednesday night, charged with being implicated in an auto thief ring, which has been operating in this part of the state with headquarters thought to be at Green Bay.

County authorities recovered 11
cars in their war against the alleged auto thieves; four here and the others at Maplewood and Forestville. Those arrested are to be arraigned this afternoon when their names will be divulged.

WHEELER PLANS TO TAKE STUMP FOR LAFOLLETTE

Expects No Immediate Developments in Government Case Against Him

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Senator Wheeler of Montana, who ran for vice-president last year on the ticket headed by Senator LaFollette, expects to take the stump in the Wisconsin election to fill the vacancy caused by LaFollette's death. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., is a candidate for the place. The Montana senator, who returned to Washington Thursday from the west, declared farmers of his state were complaining bitterly over the government's irrigation and reclamation policies. Many of them, he said, are threatened with the loss of their lands through actions of the Irrigation Bureau, while the failure to complete irrigation projects is working great hardships on others.

Senator Wheeler said he expected
no developments in the case which the government had brought against him
here until about the middle of September after the return from Europe
of his colleague and counsel, Senator Walsh of Montana.

ELKS REACH SUPERIOR FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

By Associated Press
Superior—Elks from practically every town and city in Wisconsin and many from northern Minnesota and Michigan began arriving at Superior Thursday for the annual state convention here which ends Saturday.
Thursday will be devoted principally to registration and the holding of open house at the local Elks home.
Friday is the heavy day of the program. Opening ceremonies will be held in the morning and Mayor Fred
A. Baxter will formally turn the city over to the 4,000 or more Elks and their families.

superiority for the year went to the medical division of the regiment, La Crosse. The contest brought the active field training for the year to a close.

Are Gladiolas Horticultural Pollyannas?

The "glad girl" spirit which pervades "Pollyanna," also surrounds the being of Mrs.
Wengel Zuleger, Route No. 7.
It must, however, in all truth be said that it was not a novel, but a very short story
of her own that brought Mrs.
Zuleger so much joy.

This short story was an ad in the classified section of the Post-Crescent in which she told of having gladiolas for sale.

These glad tidings brought more responses than she could handle, but she had the pleasure of selling all the flowers.

If you raise flowers or plants for sale, remember it's easy to bring forth customers
by calling 543 and asking for an ad-taker.

ASK COURT TO DENY RIGHT OF WAY FOR LINES

Green Bay Company Tries to Prevent Competitor from Acquiring Land

Oconto—Condemnation proceedings,
with all the earmarks of an open war between two of the largest public utilities in Wisconsin, were interrupted here late Wednesday afternoon when an adjournment was taken for August 20.

The court action was before Judge Herbert Jones on a petition filed by the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co. to condemn certain lands in Oconto-co
so the company can connect its Wisconsin power center at Milwaukee with its power lines in northern Michigan. (The lines in northern Michigan are operated under the name Peninsula Power Company).

Testimony at the hearing was to the effect $1,100,000 had been spent on a 200 mile line that would connect Plymouth with Niagara, in the northern part of the state, and that the lands in Oconto-co were needed to complete this line.

Counsel representing the Wisconsin Public Service Co. Green Bay which is opposed to the granting of the condemnation petition argued that the proceedings should be dismissed on the ground that the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co. was not acting in good faith, and that it was illegally
using its rights of eminent domain.
Judge Jones denied the motion to dismiss the hearing.

The Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co.
is a subsidiary of the North American Co., which owns the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. operating in Appleton. The Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co. is building the power line which will connect the Appleton system with the Lakeside plant in Milwaukee.

DEPRESSED WIFE SHOOTS FAMILY

Kills Husband and Two Children, and Then Turns Gun
on Self

Boston—George H. Curtis, his wife and daughter, Mary Marjorie, are dead, another of their three children
is dying of bullet wounds.
A daughter, Dorothy, the only member of the family who escaped injury,
told the police her mother shot others early Thursday, in a fit of depression and committed suicide.

George H. Curtis, Jr., 20, and Marjorie, 7, were shot while they slept, their sister said. Dorothy reported that she slept on an upper floor, and spent some time in dressing after her mother called her. When she reached the lower floor she found both her parents dead and her brother and sister wounded.

Several months ago, the police were told. Mrs. Curtis suffered a stroke.
Since that time she had been depressed
and acted strangely, her daughter said.

Federal Government May Construct Own Buildings To House Its Departments

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Swampscott, Mass.—The United States government may go into the real estate business if a practical plan can be worked out whereby federal buildings can be built on borrowed money and leased to Uncle Sam
for less than now is paid in rents.

President Coolidge does not favor
a bond issue which increases the public debt merely to build structures for federal purposes, but if the sound principles of the real estate business can be applied to the government's problem and money saved, he not only is willing but anxious that such a plan be evolved, even if it does include the issuance of first mortgage bonds.

RENT BILL LARGE

For several years this has been a thorn in the side of the government's fiscal experts as they gazed upon the annual rent bill. In the District of Columbia, for example, some of the most important department buildings are privately owned and leased to government. It is said that President Wilson on his daily rides to and from the White House would point to his guests one building in particular on which the rental was much higher than the interest and upkeep charges
would have been if the government had built the edifice itself. President Coolidge has much the same idea about the high cost of rentals for his office as an illustration to the generality that in-gom-b cases where the government is paying $100,000 a year, it may be possible to erect a building and apply $50,000 to interest charges and upkeep—and the other $50,000 to sinking fund to pay off the capital invested.

There is no doubt also that some of the buildings now rented may bring higher rentals if let by the government because they are as a rule in desirable locations. And real estate in Washington has had a sound growth even since the war, due to the inevitable increase in government responsibilities and personnel.

It is felt, for example, that while substantial economies may be effected from year to year, congress will never be able to go back to a billion dollar budget as in 1924.
NO LOWER BUDGET

ing a three billion dollar budget of

CALL STATE TROOPS TO STAMP OUT KLAN RIOT

By Associated Press
Reading, Mass.—After racing over the roads from four different barracks, a strong force of state troops mobilized here Thursday and stamped out a Ku Klux Klan riot. Before the arrival several tear bombs had been hurled, a score of klansmen and antiklansmen had been injured by stones and clubs, shots had been fired and two alleged klansmen were arrested.

The meeting, which began early
Wednesday night in a field on N.
Main-st., was well advertised, police said. The white robed klansmen were not in session more than half an hour
when the outsiders gathered and jeered them. The verbal barrage was followed by one of rocks.

Combined Locks Man Hurl When Car Backs Over Him

Suffering from a broken back, George Jansen, Combined Locks, is in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth hospital, as result of having been run over by an automobile driven by Henry Driesen at the Combined Locks
baseball park Wednesday afternoon.

Driesen had difficulty in starting his car whereupon Jansen and a number of other men put their shoulders to the rear to help push it along. Suddenly, when the gear were put in reverse, the car started backing up and ran over Jansen.

The injured man was conveyed by the Kunitz ambulance to St. Elizabeth hospital where a preliminary examination proved that one vertebrae was fractured. It also appears that he has some internal injuries. Jansen is conscious and feels no great discomfort aside from the fact that he is not able to move his legs. He has a chance to recover, it is reported. Jansen is a married man employed in the Combined Locks paper mill.

for the next 20 years at least an administration budget of two or more billions is considered about as low as the total will be.

Under the circumstances some provision must be made to house permanently the large personnel needed,
for example, in administration of the income tax. The War Risk Insurance Bureau, now known as the Veterans Bureau, is not likely to be dispensed with so long as the four million veterans of the World war are alive.
This bureau is housed in a rented building which was originally planned for a hotel and probably would be purchased over night by hotel interests if it ever became available.
The income tax personnel have offices in a half dozen buildings, some of which were merely of temporary construction with walls too thin to be heated without excessive cost in winter and with ceilings too
low to be comfortable in summer.
There is no question but that greater efficiency would be possible in better quarters.

Congress has been at sixes and sevens over a public building bill. The plan to build on first mortgage bonds would lessen the necessity for appropriations, and yet reduce the rent
cost to the government. Mr. Coolidge is not committed to that plan yet but he intends to get back of some proposal that will relieve the government of its present expense and give at the same time better office quarters to the multitudinous activities of Uncle Sam.

CROP YIELD WILL BE SMALLER IN '25

Estimates Total Production 3 Per Cent Lower Than Last Year

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Despite an increased area of 2.3 per cent planted to principal crops this year, total production was estimated Thursday
by the department of agriculture at 3 per cent lower than last year due to decreased yields per acre.

But for the increased area, officials said Thursday there might have been a serious crop shortage in the United States.

Yields per acre showed a reduction
for all principal crops of 6.4 per cent compared with the 10-year average and 4.5 per cent under last year's crop. Decrease was attributed mainly to drought in the corn belt and southwestern states.

The only major crop showing increased yields per acre were spring wheat, which may run over the five-year average yield per acre by about one-tenth of a bushel.

States reporting lower yields than the 10-year average include Minnesota, 99.6, and Michigan, 84.2. States reporting yields above the 10 year average include Illinois, 101.3, Wisconsin, 102.1.

SELECT RIGHT MAN FOR TOGA, LENROOT ASKS

Warns Oshkosh Convention of Difference Between Radicals and Republicans

Oshkosh—Declaring there is "a clearly defined issue between the radical leaders in Wisconsin and Republicans," I. R. Len-
root, U. S. Senator, addressing the Republican state convention in session here Thursday urged the delegates to "choose a candidate for the U. S. Senate who will recommend himself to the voters of the state as to integrity, high character and ability, to wisely and fearlessly perform
the duties of his high office and one who can be relied upon to faithfully support the constitution of the U. S."

LENROOT

After praising President Coolidge
and his administration Senator Len-root turned to the state of Wisconsin.
"In Wisconsin for the past four and a half years we have had a so called progressive administration. In the campaign about to begin we are going to ask the people of Wisconsin
what that administration has done them, in what way their burdens of taxation have been lightened, and in what way the circumstances of those not holding office have been bettered
by it. We are going to ask those who have been allied with the present state administration what part they have been permitted to take in determining who their standard bearer shall be other than voting for some candidate selected for them in some secret meeting held in some back room."

"Twenty-five years ago the progressive movement in Wisconsin was one to restore government to the people and conduct it in their interests. The primary law was enacted.
I believe in the primary law, and do not favor its repeal but I do believe the primary law should be so amended as to provide for an open party declaration by the voters at the primary polls, and that he be given only the ballot of the party he is affiliated with.

FAVORS CONVENTIONS
"I also believe that preprimary conventions, such as this should be legalized with proper safeguards. I believe this convention is representative of the Republicans of the state and it shall act with wisdom and have no other motives than doing what is best for the people of Wisconsin. Its action will strengthen the primary law and not weaken it.

"The conditions I have outlined with regard to those leaders who call themselves progressives but are really radicals, still remain. We today have a triumvirate at Madison which determines who their followers shall vote for. They have no choice in that.
The triumvirate has decided that the welfare of the people demands that one of them, the heir apparent to the throne, be elected to the senate this year, another shall be elected to the senate next year, and the third shall be elected governor next year, and they expect that the voters of Wisconsin shall carry out their order."

"But there is a more serious phase to this matter. There should be such a thing as common honesty in politics
as well as in business. Every member of this triumvirate did everything
he could last year to destroy the Republican party, but notwithstanding their efforts the party, led by President Coolidge, received the largest increase in the hands of the American people that any party has received in the history of the country.

"In view of this, it would seem that common honesty and common decency would lead those gentlemen to keep off the Republican primary ballot, and if they wish to become candidates for office to do so under the name of their own party or in the independent column.

ISSUE CLEAR

"There lies clearly defined issue between these radical leaders in Wisconsin and Republicans.

"They seek to divide our people into groups and classes, arraying group against group and class against class. They would have the mass of voters believe that every man who has been successful in business is a crook and their enemy that every employer of labor is an enemy of his employee."

HARMONY REIGNS AS G. O. P. MEETS TO PICK CANDIDATE

SCHOOLBOY SLAYER TO FACE MURDER CHARGE

By Associated Press
Kansas City—Everett Adams, 17-year-old Wilmington, Ohio, High school boy, self-confessed slayer of Aden R. Clausen, school teacher of Lodi, N. Y., Thursday was being taken to Sedalia, Mo., from Gardencity, Kan., to answer a charge of first de-

The decomposed body of Clausen was found yesterday in a ditch near Lamotte, Mo., where it had lain since Aug. 1, the date Adams confessed he had thrown it after he had shot the man to death following an attempt to rob Clausen.

The boy's confession was obtained

he had driven in Clausen's coupe af-

END TESTIMONY IN DIVORCE SUIT OF SCOTT AT NOON

Name of Volstead and Daughter Brought into Case on Thursday

Alpena, Mich.—Taking of testimony in the divorce suit of Congressman Frank D. Scott ended at noon Thursday and arguments by counsel for Scott and his wife, Edna James Scott, began Thursday afternoon.

When the names of Andrew Volstead, author of the prohibition law and his daughter, Laura, were brought into the records of the case Thursday, Scott testified neither had ever taken
a drink of liquor as far as he knew.

Miss Volstead's name was found on a menu card of Myrtle Bank hotel, Kingston, Jamaica, which was in Scott's scrap book.

Ward H. Peck, counsel for Mrs.
Scott, directed questioning toward it in an apparent effort to learn whether there was drinking aboard the steamer Cristobal on the congressional cruise to Panama in 1923.

Written on the card were several names including Miss Volstead's and Congressman Scott's. Opposite the congressman's name was written "planters punch" and because of the notation the witness made the statement concerning Miss Volstead. "I do not believe Miss Volstead ever had a drink of intoxicating liquor in her life," Mr. Scott said. "I want that made clear. And it also goes for her father."

Gilbert Bensing of Washington, denied in a deposition read to the court
over having conducted himself improperly with Mrs. Scott. He characterized Frederick Sikes, hotel detective, whose deposition alleged improprieties
seen through a keyhole as "musical comedy detective," and denied all of Sikes' testimonies.

In three depositions of Washington
police officers the credibility of Sikes was attacked.

tured daily in the comic strip

Another set of names—McGovern, Dithmar, Stone, erstwhile original La-Folletteites but now firmly established in the fold of Wisconsin Republicanism—these, too, swelled the list of the incoming hordes, borne along on the crest of the wave furnished by the untired youth of a rejuvenated party.

The hall filled rapidly. Somewhere in its recesses a regimental band struck up a rallying chord. The blare of horns and the rattle of drums invoked a new demonstration and one of Wisconsin's greatest Republican conventions was on.

EXPECT DARK HORSE
Throughout the convention hall a feeling existed that a dark horse
would be the choice of the convention for the seat in the U. S. Senate vacant by the death of Senator Robert M. LaFollette. The night had brought forth three such candidates who began early to bid for votes and the favor of the convention. These were William L.
Pieplow, Milwaukee, Henry Lockney, Waukesha, and Wallace Ingalls, Racine.
Roy P. Wilcox, another candidate, was claiming 200 votes while
Mr. Ingalls believed his strength to be 100.

Section Rules

Plans were made at the meeting of the Appleton Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night for celebrating Labor Day, Sept. 7. The observance will be in the nature of a street parade in the morning followed by a picnic in Pierce park.

Further steps were taken at the meeting for the organization of a building trades section of the Trades and Labor council and a report was heard from Fred E. Bachman as delegate to the States Federation of Labor convention.

The Labor day street parade will start at about 10 o'clock, the various union groups forming in sections and following a band to the park. It is possible that a speaker will be obtained. Refreshments will be served at the park and games and contests will be promoted for the entertainment of the young. A band will give a concert. The following were appointed as a committee on arrangements: Albert Schultz, Fred Wiese, C. Genter, Emil Schramm, Carl Ahl.

TWO CASES SCHEDULED FOR SAME TIME IN COURT

A question of "judgment" worthy of a Solomon will occupy the attention of Judge Theodore Berg Friday morning for by some trick of fate two important cases have been scheduled for the same hour, 10 o'clock. It is probable that the judge will make his "decision" by Thursday evening and notify the parties to one case earlier to appear later in the day or at another date.

The trials set for Friday are those of George Papakostas, one of the proprietors of the Coney Island wrenner stand at 343 W. College-ave, charged with assault and battery by Henry Kleist, 715 N. Garfield-st., and Emil Hando, 524 E. Atlantic-st., charged by Lily Reinko with using abusive and indecent language in the presence of a woman.

LANGENBERG IS
OF SHOE DEALERS

Appleton Man Honored by Election to Office at State Convention

J. B. Langenberg, Appleton, was elected secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Shoe Retailers association at the annual convention of the organization in Green Bay Tuesday and Wednesday. Other officers elected were Charles Cady, Antigo, president; E. Meyer, Watertown, first vice president; Harry Lucas, Milwaukee, second vice president.

W. L. Evans of Green Bay addressed the convention Wednesday afternoon on Wisconsin's problems. He declared the paramount problem in the state was to eliminate extravagance and waste in public expenditures. George M. Spangler, manager of the National Shoe Dealers association spoke Wednesday morning on the work of his organization. S. J. Brouwer, Milwaukee led a round table discussion on corrective shoes, and predicted that in the future shoe dealers would be required to have medical knowledge of the effects of ill fitting shoes, which frequently impair general health.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Friday. Slightly cooler tonight. Rising temperature Friday in west and central portions.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The pressure is low this morning over the lake region and portions of the south with showers over much of the country. This low pressure is moving slowly eastward and is followed by higher pressure over the eastern slopes of the Rockies and western plain states. This is attended by generally fair and rather cool weather. Influence of this "high" should be felt in this section tonight and Friday with generally fair weather and with somewhat lower temperature to night.

Are Your Walls
Pleasing?

When you glance about your rooms do you feel contented with their appearance? Some papers have an irritating effect upon ones nerves, and should be replaced by others of a more companionable character. In our stock of wall papers we have many designs it is a pleasure to look at. They are beautiful, restful—one never tires of them. Let us give you the benefit of our advice; we have made a study of the subject.

AUTOIST BADLY INJURED WHEN 2
CARS COLLIDE

William Wenzel Nearly Bleeds
to Death When Jugular Vein Is Severed

A Kaukauna man was seriously injured, a Neenah girl was temporarily rendered unconscious and two automobiles were considerably damaged in a collision at the corner of E. Foster-st and S. Adams-st at about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

William Wenzel, 60, father of Clarence Wenzel, 165 E. Division-st, Kaukauna, driver of one of the cars, is in St. Elizabeth hospital suffering from a broken collar bone, a bad gash on his neck and several other cuts and bruises from being flung against the glass of the Nash sedan driven by Irving Stulp, 316 Washington-st, Neenah. His jugular vein was severed and lost much blood so that it is astonishing he did not bleed to death.

Stulp was driving west toward Neenah with Miss Mary Hilton, 208 E. Doty-ave, Neenah, as passenger. He was watching a string of cars coming toward him to see that none of them turned ahead of him on S. Adams-st toward Cherry-st bridge. Suddenly the Ford car driven by young Wenzel from the opposite direction shot ahead of the other automobiles in an attempt to make the turn north. Stulp put on the brakes and tried to turn to the ditch, he declares, but the touring car struck the sedan on the left side denting the metal work and breaking the windows. A wheel and fender of the touring car were broken and the radiator was battered in.

Stulp suffered a few small cuts on his face and hands as a result of flying glass, and Miss Hilton fell unconscious from the shock. She was taken to a nearby house to be revived, and Mr. Wenzel was taken to the hospital. Mr. Wenzel will recover, it is reported. Two other occupants of the Ford touring car, Ambrose Rutter, 509 Draper-st, Kaukauna, and Joseph Poppe, Kimberly, were not injured.

CALL OFF CONTESTS FOR
K. OF C. ATHLETIC CUP

More than 400 persons attended the picnic which was given Wednesday by Appleton, Kaukauna, Neenah-Menasha councils of Knights of Columbus at Brighton beach. The Kaukauna baseball team with Otto Runtz as captain, defeated the Appleton team, with Robert Connelly captain, by a score of 6 to 2. Races and contests for the children and ladies furnished entertainment.

Because of the condition of the weather, field day events were not held and the trophy will be awarded at a field day to be held in September.

BASING ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SHRINER CLUB

Outagamie-co Shriners Eligible to Membership in New Organization

An Appleton shrine club was formed at a banquet of Appleton Shriners at the Conway hotel Wednesday evening. All shriners residing in Outagamie-co are eligible for membership in the new club. Officers elected were W. B. Basing, Appleton, president; G. H. Putnam, New London, vice president; George R. Wettengel, Appleton, secretary; Dr. H. K. Pratt, Appleton, treasurer.

A report was given on the progress that is being made in plans for the shriners state wide ceremonial at Neenah Aug. 22 at which a class of 150 will be initiated in Tripoli temple, Milwaukee. Appleton shriners pledged their whole-hearted support to the Neenah ceremonial. Twenty-seven were present at the banquet Wednesday evening. Guests from out of the city were G. H. Putnam, Frank Zaug, Fay Smith, and Herbert Ritchey, all of New London, and Henry Brauer, and W. Babbler of Kaukauna.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued Wednesday by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, to Lester R. Slattery of Appleton, and Miss Benita Mack, New London; Edward Reider, Appleton, and Miss Frieda Kohls, Menasha.

PRIZES FOR WORKERS IN SATURDAY'S TAG DAY

"Have a Heart and help an unfortunate" will be the appeal of many of the Appleton youngsters on Saturday who will under the leadership of Miss Florence Dillon cooperate with the Volunteers of America in helping to put over the tag day in behalf of Mrs. Booths many activities in this state.

Headquarters will be at the Library where those who have been invited to compete for the prizes and theatre passes, are asked to call Saturday morning after 9 o'clock to review their tags and instructions.

To the one who secures the largest amount for her tags, Hyde and Co. will give a pearl necklace, for the second third prize, Voigt's Drug store will give a 2 Ansco camera. Basing's Sport shop will give a tennis racket for the fourth prize. Palace Candy shop will give a 2-pound box of chocolates for the fifth prize and Harry Oaks will give two one pound boxes of chocolates for the sixth and seventh prizes. Those who do not win prizes but secure at least $3 for their tags will receive two passes to the Fischer's Appleton, Elite Bijou or Majestic theaters.

Stomach Remedy

Voigt's Drug Store Declares Money Back if One Bottle Doesn't Make Any Stomach Sufferer Rejoice

At last the way has been found to combine Pepsin with other corrective stomach agents so that it will do the most good in the shortest possible time.

Why bother with slow actors when one tablespoonful of this splendid and pleasant liquid remedy will cause gas, bloating, heaviness, heartburn or any upset condition of the stomach to vanish in a few minutes.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress, but it also conquers stubborn indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, and puts an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and dependency which distressing troubles are nearly always caused by chronic stomach disturbance.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take, has a delightfully refreshing taste and after it has put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel, for besides correcting stomach disorders this supremely good remedy that Voigt's Drug Store and druggists everywhere guarantee, is a fine tonic that builds you up and makes you work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

A SERIOUS DISCUSSION ON CANNING PEACHES

Knowing the situation as we do, we would be failing in our duty to the public if we did not voice our opinion at this time. All the southern states are through shipping PEACHES. California is also through shipping ELBERTAS. The quantity that will come from Colorado and Washington this season is so small that it is hardly worth mentioning. Owing to extremely unfavorable weather conditions, the Peach crop in these states is the smallest in years. It is common knowledge that the fruit belt in Michigan suffered from extremely heavy frost this spring. It is now reliably estimated that the Michigan peach crop will not be more than fifteen per cent of an average crop. That means high prices and inferior quality. These are the plain facts.

We now have on track Elberta peaches from Georgia packed in six basket crates; Elbertas from the mountain district of Tennessee packed in bushels; Mountain Elbertas from California packed in boxes. The quality of all these is the finest that we have ever seen. Whatever section or style package you prefer, we urge you by all means to buy right now. You will pay dearly by waiting. Prices will be higher. It behooves you to act today.

BLACK CONCORD GRAPES

As above stated, on account of frost in the Michigan fruit belt this spring, it is now reliably estimated that Michigan will not have this season over fifteen per cent of an average GRAPE crop. We have on track now several cars of black CONCORD GRAPES—packed in small climax baskets—from the Ozark Mountain section of Missouri and Arkansas. The quality and flavor of these Concord is extremely fine. We advise buying these grapes now for jam, juice and juice purposes. See your dealer.

BARRY REFUSES TO BE 'GUIDED' BY CONVENTION

Another Candidate for G. O.
P. Senatorial Nomination
"Goes It Alone"

Another aspirant for Republican nomination for United States senator has come out in a statement that his candidacy will not be governed by the action of the Republican state convention in Oshkosh Thursday. He is Arthur R. Barry, Racine attorney, who has written an open letter to W. J. Campbell, Oshkosh, chairman of the Republican state organization, in which he condemns the convention and declares he will be a candidate regardless of what action the convention takes.

"I announced my candidacy," I stated and reiterated now, that I would not submit my candidacy to any convention which includes the one now called at Oshkosh for August 13," Mr. Barry said. "The reason I stated then still holds good, namely, that no clique, faction or self constituted convention should presume to usurp the rights of the people, or even hamper them, in the matter of making their own selection of candidates. The calling of a political convention in Wisconsin is violative of the letter as well as the spirit of the primary election law, which has been upon our Statute books more than twenty years."

REFUSED AID

"Aside from the foregoing, I should refuse to participate in your convention for the following reasons: "1. In 1922 a sincere effort was made by a body of Wisconsin Republicans to bring about a change in this state. From November 1921 until May 1922 these sincere hard working men and women in Wisconsin honestly and faithfully worked in what they conceived to be the best interest of the Republican party. They felt they had the backing of Senator Leacock and the then National Administration, but suddenly we privates in Wisconsin discovered, but all too late, that the National Republican Committee had abandoned us and refused to give the promised aid. Naturally the attempt thus made was a failure."

"2. In the early part of 1924 another movement was started to select delegates to the National Republican Convention. 'We privates' in Wisconsin were again urged to put on the yoke and start to work. Hardly had the whip of the National Republican party ceased to descend upon our political backs, when the National Committee speaking through Senator Leacock and two or three trusted lieutenants in Wisconsin, advised us that the National Committee did not want us. In fact would look with favor upon our attempt to select delegates to the National Convention. This was the second time we were called to colors and then given the order to retreat."

"Do you not think Mr. Campbell that after having been fooled twice in this manner that we should refuse to be trifled with a third time? Chairman Butler's interview with the eastern newspapermen clearly satisfies any sensible person that the National Republican Committee cares little about what happens to us in Wisconsin. I am satisfied that Chairman Butler and his associates do not intend to oppose Robert La Follette, Jr., should he be nominated, and I believe their political arms would be outstretched to welcome him should he be elected, and I am not one of those who would say that they would not be right in following this course of conduct, but I do claim the right

M'KINLEY SCHOOL TO BE FINISHED BY SEPT. 8

Work on the junior high school unit, which will be a part of the McKinley school building in the Fourth ward, is being rushed with the hope that it may be completed by Sept. 8 the opening day of the public schools. The junior high school addition to the McKinley school will cost $24,000. The general construction work is being done by the Hegner Construction Co. and the plans for the building were drawn by Smith and Brandt, Appleton architects. The second story of the building now is being built.

to object to being trifled with a third time.

AVOID STATE ISSUES

"3. My further objection to the Oshkosh convention is that you are promising to throw out State issues when the selection of a United States Senator should wholly concern a National issue. "Aside from the foregoing, the fact remains that the candidate for United States Senator should be selected by the people and that candidacy should not be determined upon heredity nor by a self selected body squatting down at Oshkosh relegating to themselves the claim to decide as to who is a Republican in Wisconsin. The attempt at Madison to force Robert La Follette, Jr., upon the people because he is a son of the late Senator La Follette creates a new faction in the Republican party in Wisconsin which should be denominated the 'heirs.' This Oshkosh attempt to gain title to the Republican party by sowing sovereignty will in political history hereafter mark the persons making this attempt, and they will ever be known, as the 'Oshkosh squatters.'"

to object to being trifled with a third time.

More Than $66,000 Expended
from General Fund During July

pus $264,626 August 1st side by side disbursements of $26,302.37 in July left the city treasury a balance of $685,741.73 on Aug. 1, according to the monthly report of Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer. This balance includes $74,687.88 of police and firemen's pension fund money, library endowment and waterworks investments.

The standings of the several funds were as follows: General fund $264,626.55, bridge fund $608.53, junior high school building fund $53,964.12, high school $14,650.22, junior high school operating fund $60,281.66, junior high school bond and interest $15,923.88, vocational school fund $18,333.45, library fund $6,759.88, firemen's pension pension $5,994.04, police pension $1,017.53, park board $10,525.39, waterworks investment $22,617.11, waterworks reserve $4,913.73 and waterworks bond and interest $2,452.50.

Among the larger disbursements were $66,636.16 from the general fund, $21,525.85 from the waterworks fund and $1,847.42 from the junior high school building fund.

INJURED WOMAN ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Mrs. R. E. Van Schaick of Carleton, who was painfully bruised in an auto accident Monday, and taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, was able to leave the hospital Wednesday and returned to her home. The accident occurred on state trunk highway 26, one and a half miles west of Bear Creek, when the car in which Mrs. Van Schaick was riding crashed into a smaller car ahead, which made a sudden and unexpected turn to the east. Mrs. Van Schaick's car tipped over, and pinned its three occupants underneath. Two others in the car escaped uninjured.

FIVE ELKS WILL ATTEND SUPERIOR CONVENTION

Five Appleton men expect to attend the state convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks to be held at Superior on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. They are Thomas Long, David Smith, William Jacobson, C. Miller, and James H. Balliet. Other Appleton Elks may attend the convention, it was said.

BAND MAY MAKE MID-WEST TOUR

Military Musicians Work on Plans for Jaunt Through Several States

The 120th Field Artillery band of Appleton, which now is at Camp Sparta with several units of the state artillery for a two-week training period, may travel through the west on an extended tour late this fall, according to Capt. Eric D. Lindberg. Reports in the Milwaukee papers to the effect that the band will leave for the tour immediately upon its return from the camp are incorrect, but the group may take the trip a little later, Capt. Lindberg said.

The band, which is directed by Warrant Officer Edward Mumm, has made a big reputation in state and midwest musical circles. The group plays at every formal guard mount at the Sparta camp.

UNCLE SAM IS FINDING WAYS TO CUT EXPENSES

Promises of the present national administration in regard to economy are well carried out if letters received here are any indication. The letters are from the division of public documents of the government printing office at Washington, D. C.

The envelope formerly was in the possession of a member of Congress and had his free stamp on the outside. The name and stamp were cancelled and the government is using the envelope. The original owner was defeated for reelection to his seat. Instead of throwing away a supply of envelopes of this kind, the government cancels the stamp so that the envelope can be used by the departments.

MORE CITIES USE NEW FIRE THREAD

Use of Standard Fire Hose
Coupling Is Almost Universal in America

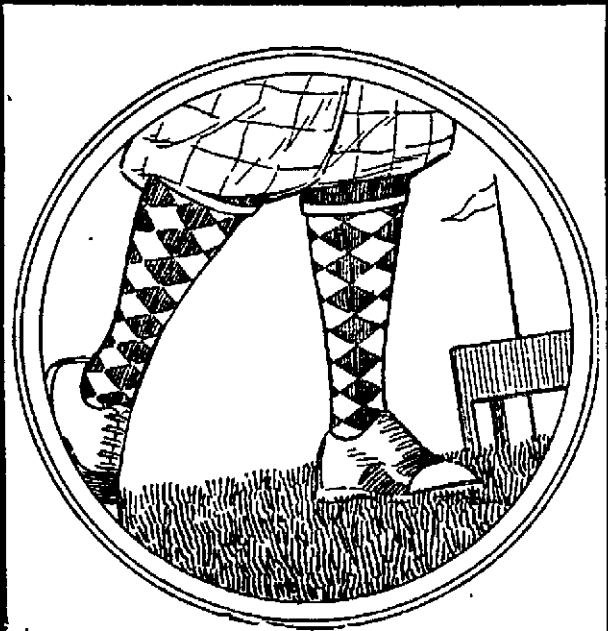

Standardizing of fire hose couplings by adoption of a uniform coupling thread, such as was done in Appleton some time ago, is being carried out all over the United States with such rapidity that hose couplings of all cities in the country will be the standard within another two years, according to a statement by Secretary Hugh C. Corbett of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce based upon information received from James L. Madden, manager of the insurance department of the national chamber of commerce. A large number of Fox river valley cities have adopted the standard. Mr. Madden was in Appleton some time ago and addressed the chamber of commerce and Rotary club on the nationwide project. PLANK'S CONDITION STILL IS SERIOUS

The condition of Ferdinand Plank who was knocked down by an automobile Aug. 1 while crossing College ave at Superior st. is unchanged according to word from St. Elizabeth hospital, where the injured man is confined. Mr. Plank suffered a fractured skull. When the injured man was taken to the hospital he frequently lapsed into periods of unconsciousness, and a similar condition still prevails according to word from the hospital.

It was found that conflagrations often went unchecked in whole sections of cities in spite of efficient fire apparatus, all because of the fact that couplings of neighboring fire departments would not fit the hydrants. The standard series of thread and gage dimensions received the designation of "American standard" by the American Engineering Standards committee and have been approved by 17 national organizations.

NARCOTICS SCANDAL

The arrest in Chicago of Col. Will G. Beach, chief of the narcotic division of the internal revenue department for the Chicago district, and three of his trusted agents, in a sensational series of raids against dope sellers and addicts, illustrates the difficulties with which the government has to contend in its efforts to enforce laws which are violated for commercial gain. For many years Beach has been regarded as one of the most efficient anti-narcotic fighters in the nation. The government had to and did rely upon his services because of the important responsibilities with which it had entrusted him to enforce the law and suppress the commercial interests which were opposing it.

Instead, if the government allegations are true, he has abused his trust in a shameless manner and has actually participated in a gigantic distribution of habit-forming drugs, making it possible for a syndicate of Chicago men to make millions of dollars by supplying the wants of drug addicts of the country. It is said that the arrests just made are the first scandal ever reported in the Chicago division of the narcotic office.

The case shows that sooner or later organized law-breaking which can be made highly profitable "gets" to public officials. If they cannot reach one they will reach his successor or some of his subordinates or associates. We have had painful exhibitions of this in the comparatively short time in which prohibition has been in effect. Enforcement officers all over the country—hundreds of them—have been recreant to their trust and have entered into league with bootleggers and illegal manufacturers of booze to violate the law. They have not been able to withstand the temptation of the enormous profits that the business offers. Even the administration departments at Washington have been tinged by this conspiracy between law and lawlessness, as was brought out in the Daugherty investigation.

Where millions upon millions of dollars can be made out of the protection of unlawful business, it requires men of adamant courage and probity to do their duty in fighting and suppressing this commercialized lawlessness. The government is always at a disadvantage because of the fact that so many of the appointments made to responsible law enforcement positions are purely political, and take small account of the appointee's qualifications, character or inherent honesty. Generally when a scandal like that at Chicago occurs, it is directly or indirectly of vicious politics.

The people are the losers in this kind of government. They are the losers in any employment of politics for selfish and dishonest purposes, and they are beset by it on all sides. When they lend their cooperation to the election of incompetent and unreliable men, merely to satisfy a grievance or a prejudice, they lend themselves to dishonest and irresponsible government. That a vast number of incompetent public officials are elected for this reason and this alone admits of no denial. When such men are elected to public office, they immediately surround themselves with men of the same type and caliber. The result is costly and extravagant government at its best, with corruption, graft and other criminal practices following closely in the train.

PERSHING IN CHILE

General Pershing has arrived in Chile to supervise the carrying out of the Tacna-Arica award of President Coolidge. By all accounts the Chileans are enthusiastic over his appointment as arbitrator and have given him a cordial greeting which bodes well for the settlement of one of the worst boundary disputes that has ever disturbed the peace of South America.

Morally the Chileans are the guilty parties and treaty violators in the Tacna-Arica dispute. They have held the two provinces without a plebiscite since 1882 in defiance of the Treaty of Ancón. In this they were overwhelming right by might, having defeated Peru disastrously in war. But it is also a fact that the sins of dead Chileans cannot sensibly be visited on the heads of the Chileans residing in Tacna and Arica today. For this reason the president as arbitrator advised the two nations that the matter should be put to a fair vote, in which, of course, if the Chileans supporters proved to be the winning party they would be permitted to keep the territory regardless of the original weakness of their case.

Naturally everything will hang upon this plebiscite; and Chile being in actual control would have an advantage which might be unfairly used if some umpire of prestige and popularity did not intervene. That is Pershing's job. His popularity with the Chileans represents respect on the part of the nation whose acquiescence is more necessary to a peaceful settlement.

Peru of course has everything to gain and nothing to lose in the plebiscite; and besides, its penetration by American influences and its admiration for our enterprise has assured good will toward the Pershing mission. Its chamber of deputies indorsed with but a single dissenting ballot the Peruvian participation in the vote.

Good relations with Chile and Peru represents a valuable American asset. Considerable mining development and railroad building have been conducted by American interests in the mountainous territory of these Latin neighbors. Isaac Marcossion describes in his article on "The New Conquest of Peru" in the August 8 issue of the Saturday Evening Post the romance of indomitable American engineering in that country under such leaders as Meiggs and Haggin. We are creeping up on the British and leading other nations in South American investment and commerce. Friendly political relations will speed this process of industrial alliance.

BELGIUM CAN PAY

On Monday the commission appointed by the Belgian government to negotiate regarding the Belgian war debt of $470,000,000 to the United States turned over from fetes and banquets to the business at hand, and held its first meeting with the World War debt funding commission. The importance of the meeting is measured by the fact that Belgium is the first of our continental debtors, with depreciated currency, to talk cold cash.

If Belgium funds, France may be expected to fund on something like the same terms; and there is no question but that Belgium not only can fund but can pay.

The per capita taxes in Belgium, making full allowance for exchange, are nearly 30 per cent below per capita taxes in Holland, which has no war debt. The average Frenchman is paying nearly twice as much and the average Britisher more than three times as much as the average Belgian, according to latest available estimates. So that the Belgian taxpayer will not have to strain his pocket-book to start the installments.

Another fact which should be remembered in connection with Belgium's debt is that most of it was incurred, not in the "common cause," but after the war was over. About $175,000,000 was loaned for relief purposes after the armistice.

Even during the war, only a fraction of the sums loaned were to keep the Belgian army in the field. They were advanced for the relief of Belgians, and the actual figures are: Relief, 264 millions; munitions, 14 millions. The rest went for tobacco and foodstuffs and supplies.

Like France, Belgium bought — at a neat discount — a great deal of the war material we left in the military zones occupied by American forces. It has paid the interest on that, just as France has; and on nothing else. It owes us approximately $94,000,000 interest and $358,000,000 principal. Nearly all of the principal was in credits created by the buyers of $347,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds, and American taxpayers would have to go on paying the interest and principal on those bonds for many years if Belgium refused to fund its debt.

So the gesture of Belgium in being first to come forward with a definite commission on funding is both pleasing and appropriate. It justifies the generosity of Americans who gave willingly and freely for Belgian relief in addition to the official loans; and it justifies the judgment of American investors who, since the armistice, have entrusted their funds freely in Belgium in the faith that a country which could have acquired before German might but instead offered its life freely in defense of a principle will not default in the lesser obligations of commerce.

OSLERISM NOT BAD

Officers in the United States army are retired and pensioned when they attain the age of 64 years. In some instances this regulation seems unwise, for it sometimes happens that an officer remains physically and mentally efficient for a few years over that age and in such cases, however exceptional, the working of the regulation means a loss of services worth far more than the mere salary or pension concerned. A colonel or a general, given sound physical and mental conditions, is worth a full company of lieutenants or captains, if experience is a good teacher. Ah, but when the big chief begins to go seedy, as most of em do before they arrive at the age of retirement, the difference between his active salary and the cost of carrying him as a pensioner represents a wise investment in economy for the government.

In like manner, as it seems to me, it would be a wise plan if physicians were automatically retired, with or without a pension, at the age of 60 to 65 years. I have considered this idea for several years, waiting, as it were, to make a tentative test of it in a representative number of cases. I have even hesitated to suggest such an idea lest some life social reformer seize upon it as the basis for a new law—and goodness knows the medical profession is sufficiently harassed and handicapped by punitive laws and restrictive regulations promulgated by our present bureaucratic government. Yet the work the stronger becomes my conviction that it more I see of physicians and specialists and their would be distinctly to the advantage of the health of the community at large if some automatic retirement were applicable to the doctor as well as the soldier.

In the years I have been turning this idea over and trying it out in a tentative way upon practitioners of every degree, I have had several occasions to try on my own inner consciousness how much bias or preconceived fancy there might be back of the notion, and I have found that where I had an array of specialists or plain doctors to choose from, other things being equal, my preference has generally been for the younger medical devices for my own loved ones. So I have concluded that Oslerism is not a bad idea, after all, as reporters' pipe dreams go. No doubt the hard hoeing I encountered as a pitifully young doctor butting my head against the stone walls of custom and tradition on which rested in comfortable security the popularity of many old medical fogies, did prejudice me somewhat from the very beginning. They caught me young, treated me rough and told me lies about pay day, and I will admit it ranked in my soul and soured my disposition. Nevertheless, that is all past and forgiven now, and I believe I look upon the question through a clear glass. At any rate I know when my own precious health, or the health of one precious to me, is concerned, I want the younger doctor for mine. Some of the older men are fine gentlemen and come in swell cars and all of that, but it is positively shocking how they seem to degenerate into mere nostrum peddlers or hobby riders and quite lose touch with the true art of medicine. So my formula for getting the best medical or health care is this: Catch your doctor young, treat him honorably and loyally and after a while you'll be drawing dividends that the frenzied mob of specialist chasers never know.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Milk Diet

The writer would like you to advise him, if ethics permits, of sanitariums or health resorts that other than — institute. . . (G. L. A.)

Answer.—Only shady quick institutions specialize in that respect, just such humbug institutions as the one you name. When milk diet is advisable, any good physician in or outside of any sanitarium employs it. That this remedial agency is seized upon by innumerable mail order, short cut, illegitimate healers does not signify that any special knowledge or skill is required to prescribe it, but only that the dear public still likes to be humbugged.

Seventeen Boys Taking Agriculture Course Study What Neighbor Is Doing

Chilton.—Guido L. Weber, instructor of agriculture in the high school Wednesday took 17 boys, who are enrolled in the agricultural course, to visit each other's project, on farms adjacent to Chilton.

The agricultural course in the high school is being imparted under the Smith-Hughes law of the federal government, which makes project work an outstanding feature of the course. Under the direction of Mr. Weber, this phase of the work has been unusually successful, and the boys show a deep interest in the work. The boys are engaged in the various phases of agriculture, such as the raising of calves and hogs, and the growing of grains. Each boy is required to keep an accurate account of the expense incurred in his project and the financial gain or loss thereof.

The following farmers were visited: George Timm, Mrs. Frank Sonntag, Henry Roach, Louis McGrath, Daniel Joyce, Fred Harder, Henry Harder, John Reik, William Grancy, Charles Aebischer, George Trimbberger, Hugo Dhein, John Lerch, and Hugo Horst.

This farm projects are a most effective means toward bringing together the theoretical and the practical in educational work, according to Mr. Weber.

Former Governor Confers With Supporters on His Candidacy for Senator

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca.—Much speculation exists in Waupaca as to the outcome of the Oshkosh convention this week. Waupaca delegates are uninterested and those of the city have expressed themselves but little in the matter of a candidate to be endorsed for United States senator to succeed the late Senator LaFollette.

Former Governor McGovern, one of the candidates, was in town last week to confer with his friends and supporters and declared he was receiving every where from all classes. One local weekly apparently will back the McGovern movement and has shown an out-and-out policy to defeat Robert LaFollette, Jr.

Tuesday evening a squabble party was held at the Indian Crossing casino at which a large crowd was present. The entertainment was in the form of dancing whereby all were given an equal chance to be awarded prizes.

Numerous boxes were hung over the dance floor and to these were attached invisible strings that led to the stage. At intervals during the evening one of these strings were pulled which released 25 pieces of tissue paper that fluttered over the heads of the dancers who jostled one another and did considerable squabbling in trying to obtain possession of them. One paper contained a lucky number giving its owner a valuable prize.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Episcopal church of Sheboygan. Further services were held here at the Heidke residence with interment in Graceland cemetery.

MRS. JOHN SALM

Clintonville.—Mrs. John Salm, 59,

died at her home on Park-st. early Tuesday morning after an illness of several years.

After her marriage she and her husband lived on a farm in town of Chilton until some two years ago, when they moved into the city of Chilton. Thirteen children were born to them, of whom ten with the widow survive. The children are: Mrs. F. Buil, of New Holstein, Georgia, Andrew and Martin, town of Chilton, Joseph, of New Holstein, the Rev. Peter A., of Marquette, Marie, Emma, Veronica and Hugo living at home.

The funeral was held on Thursday from St. Mary church.

FOR Y. M. C. A. MEN

Self Government for Dormitory Residents Planned for Meeting

All dormitory men of the Y. M. C. A. have been invited to attend a meeting Thursday evening to make plans for organizing a Triangle "village" in the dormitories. The idea was considered at a meeting of a committee of the "Y" residents a few weeks ago but it was put aside until the sentiment of the remainder of the group could be tested. Reports on the canvass will be read at Thursday evening's meeting.

The committee for the work consists of Chester Hill, Hugo Pelzer, Clayton Reed, Frank Clayton, C. L. Boynton, H. F. Hellis, A. P. Jensen, C. R. Bassett, Leland Barlow, C. R. Hanson and L. E. Bunde. Mr. Clayton is editor of the local "Y" News, which is sponsoring the idea. The "Y" Triangle village, an established institution in many associations of the country, is a self government for men living in the dormitories. A mayor is elected, aldermen from the various "wards" are chosen and a constitution and set of laws is adopted. Then the dormitory function under the laws and under the guidance of the "village officials" in much the same way as a city.

GIVE BACK POWER TO PEOPLE, G. O. P. KEYNOTE

the constructive program inaugurated by President Coolidge to reduce the burdens of the people by economy.

"Wisconsin's representatives, save one, either retain a stony, clamlike silence or openly oppose the president's program," asserted the speaker. "Is there a good and sufficient reason why Wisconsin should not take her place along with other states and the national government, fighting shoulder to shoulder in the crusade to bring government back to the people, a return to the realm of reason, and away from the cumbersome and oppressive tendencies to which we have fallen heir?"

Leading up to his peroration, Mr. Blanchard reviewed the achievements of the state's industries and spoke of its unlimited resources needing development. He urged there be such political leadership as to make for further industrial progress and development.

Mr. Blanchard urged leadership that would result in a sound taxation program predicated on "the foundation of soundness and fairness, rather than on political expediency. Passing from this subject he touched upon the subject of conservation and bitterly attacked the present administration in its conservation policy.

POLITICS UPPERMOUTH

"Here is the place for a man of vision," Mr. Blanchard asserted, "a state administration, unresponsive to the wishes of the elector who voted a constitutional amendment to provide for a fair and intelligent conservation program, holds no hope for the future. Again, political expediency takes the place of forward looking statesmanship.

"We asked for a fish and we got a stone."

A combination of progressives and socialists passed a reactionary tax program, prevented consolidation of governmental boards, commissions and bureaus and executed assaults against the judiciary in the last legislature, Mr. Blanchard charged.

Pledged to economy by the progressives, the people got extravagance and tax manipulation, the speaker asserted. Tax commission reports show the rising costs of state government, he said, adding that manipulation taxes do not result in benefit to the people of the state. Citing figures on governmental costs, Mr. Blanchard said the total departmental expenditures in state government had leaped from $541,395 in 1900 to more than $4,000,000 in 1921.

Mr. Blanchard recited a long list of states which had made an effort at cutting costs of state government through consolidation of departmental agencies. Wisconsin, he said, through a reactionary legislature, refused to do so.

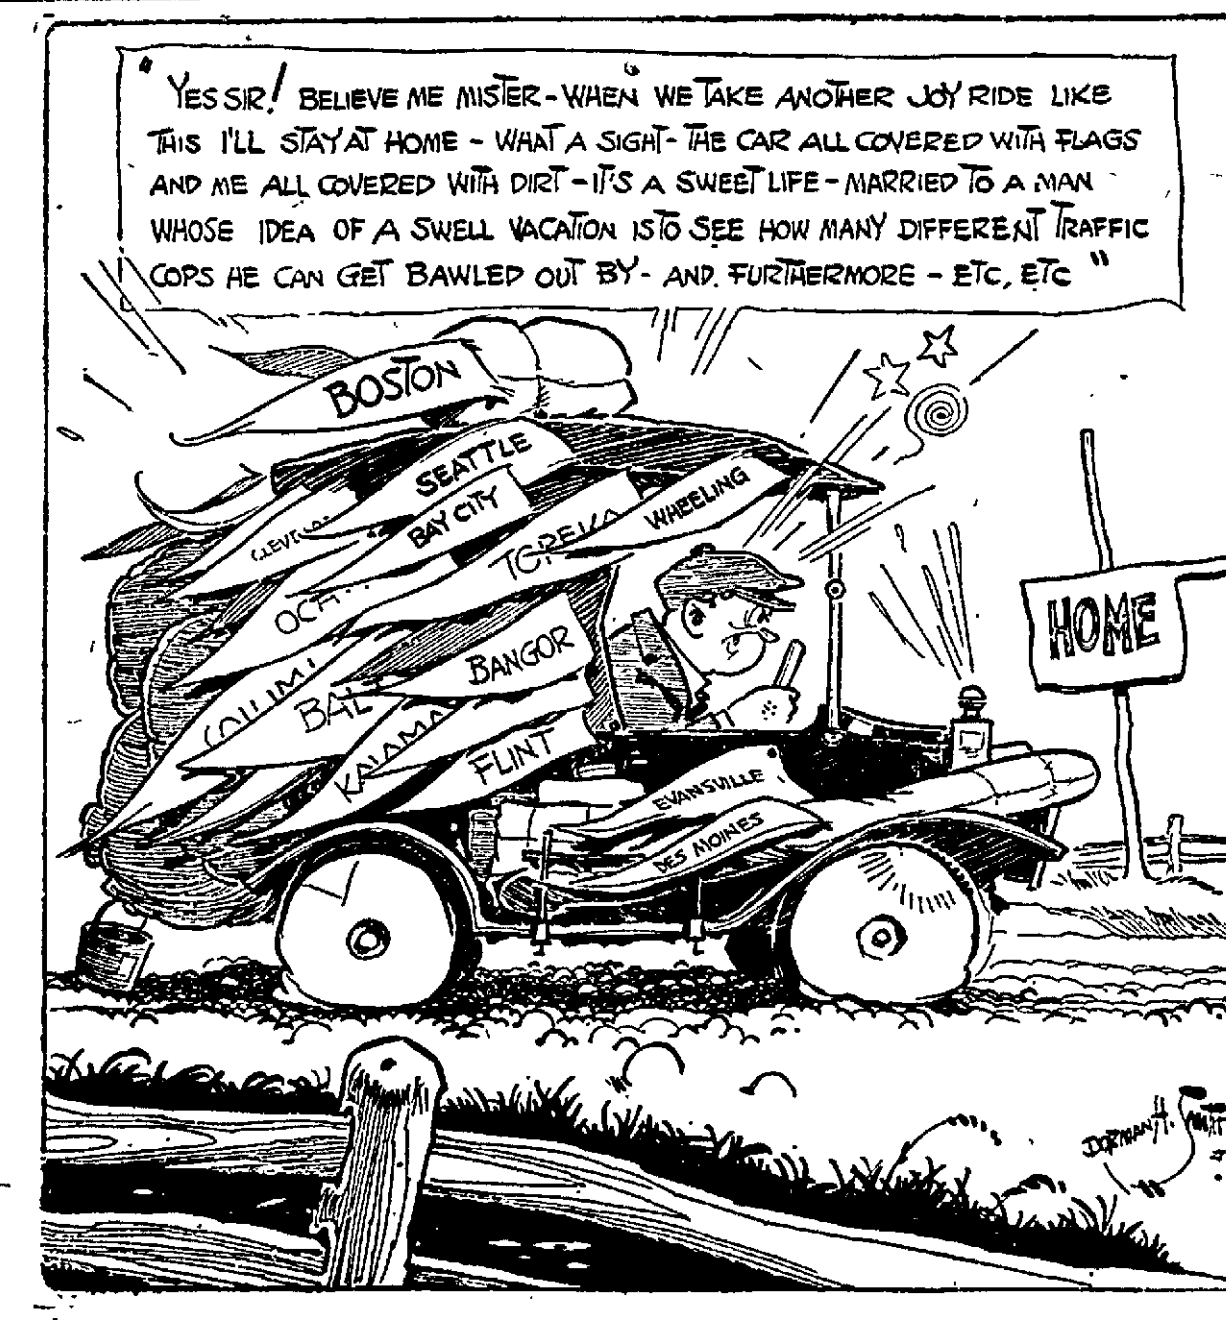

After paying tribute to the tax reduction and economy program of the republican administration at Washington, the speaker concluded his remarks with the following plea for united political action.

FIGHT BEGINS NOW

"The fight begins here and now. It will continue aggressively and unceasingly until Wisconsin is purged of the pernicious influence of office overshadowing their interest in good government. We expect opposition. There can be no compromise on our part. The situation exists and always will exist as long as a few in secret cabal can dictate who shall be office holders in Wisconsin, and are unmindful of their duty to the public, and contemptuous to the people. This convention offers an opportunity for a dedication to the cause of representative government. In this spirit we approach the work before us, and in this spirit we will finish the work. It is founded on faith—faith in Wisconsin, faith in her people, her greatness today and tomorrow. Behind that faith is the early Wisconsin pioneer who came to erect a commonwealth founded in simple honesty. All who retain such faith will join us.

The way is straight, the road is clear. There are no devious paths. We do not peer into the past—we face the dawning day—a rising sun."

Local Girl Wins State Essay Prize

Miss Elizabeth Meating, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Meating, received word Wednesday from the state office of the department of education, that her essay, "Why has the American Legion dedicated itself to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States," had received first place in the state essay contest under the supervision of the American Legion. The contest was open to all young people in the state between the ages of 12 and 18. Miss Meating was awarded a silver medal for first place, Miss Georgia Kelley of Princeton received a bronze medal for second place and third place was won by Miss Agnes Dapelon of Milwaukee, which was a certificate of merit.

Miss Meating's essay has been sent to the American Legion at Indianapolis, Ind. to compete for a national prize. Three prizes will be awarded for essays, the first will be $750, the second $500 and the third $250. Each person winning one of the national prizes will be given a scholarship for the amount of the prize they have won, to any college designated by them.

Womans Club Keeps Record Of Girls Placed At Work

Girls from all parts of the state write or call the Appleton Womens club to seek employment, according to a statement issued from the club Wednesday. For the last two weeks an average of four girls a day have sought work through the local womens club. This is an average of one applicant an hour as the club is only opened four hours a day while the womens club camp at Onaway Island is in session. In the fall and in the winter there are many more applicants for work than at the present time of year.

After a girl has been placed in a position her work is checked up on by the club as a complete record is kept of all girls who register for employment. When a girl is sent on any job the date is recorded when she starts the work. The club then keeps in touch with her, and her employer, to see how she is getting along. Reports are received from the employer, and from the girl employed, to get all angles of the case. These reports reveal whether a girl is a willing worker, and a competent worker, whether her employer is hard to work for, and whether the girl has received good treatment at the hands of her employer.

There is little demand for girls now because a great number of people are away on their vacations. This situation, however, fits very well with employment conditions from the angle of the employe, as many girls are on farms during the summer, and do not apply for work in the city until the fall.

There is quite a call for elderly, or middle aged women at the present time who would be good housekeepers it was said. Most of the girls seeking work through the womens club, are looking for housework and most of the requests for girls are from women seeking maids for general housework. However, the womens club finds employment for girls in every field.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Olive Branch society will have a meeting at 7:30 Friday evening in Mt. Olive Lutheran church. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour. Miss Anna Weihung, delegate to the International Waltham League convention which was held in August at San Francisco probably will give a report.

not trying to gloss over anything and yet I want, oh, how I want you to know, that I love you with all the intensity of the male animals as well as with all the admiration and reverence of which my soul is capable.

You are mine dear. However much you may chafe against your bonds, you are mine.

I am proud of my possession, and strange as it may seem to you, I want you to be happy.

CASHIER SMELLS CLEVER RAT IN FORGERY TRICK

Alleged Crook's Scheme "Too Perfect" to Pass Muster at Bank

Kaukauna—One of the most clever attempts at bad check cashing ever attempted in this city was frustrated through the vigilance of C. D. Towse, assistant cashier at the Bank of Kaukauna Tuesday afternoon. A slip in conversation which revealed the crook had prepared the way too well was the clew which aroused the caution of the banker.

About 2:45 Tuesday afternoon a lady who appeared to be at least 50 years old called at the bank. She wore a hat with a black veil draped in the back as though in mourning. She declared she had money in a savings account in Fond du Lac but wished to transfer it here since she had made up her mind to purchase a home here, she said.

She presented a check for $47 drawn on the Commercial National bank at Fond du Lac. The document was made out in favor of Mrs. Clara Kaiser and was signed "John J. Kaiser." As she handed over the check the woman declared she was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James King, 305 Sarah-st. and that address appeared under her name on the check. She also casually mentioned that she was acquainted with the William Guilfoyle family, living next door.

To the question as to whether Kings have a telephone the stranger replied that neither Kings nor Guilfoyles have phones. It was this bit of knowledge which put Mr. Towse on his guard for he guessed that a visitor would not have occasion to learn of the absence of such instruments in both homes.

Excusing himself Mr. Towse, after some delay, got E. G. Driessen on the telephone and found there were no visitors at the King home. Mr. Driessen is a son-in-law of the Kings. Members of both families then were called and all denied that they had a visitor.

By that time the would be check cashier was very impatient and nervous. She probably sensed things were not going as smoothly as planned and after attempting to have other bank employees cash the check she declared she would return after a visit to the meat market where she wished to make a purchase. She has not been seen since.

Later it was discovered that a strange lady had called upon Mrs. King and had conversed for some time in a very friendly manner. It was during that time the woman learned the names she used and discovered the fact that there were no telephones in either of the two houses.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Mrs. R. M. Radsch entertained the Birthday club at her cottage at Shore Acres Tuesday. A noonday luncheon was followed by an afternoon of social entertainment. Eight ladies attended.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its regular meeting at 2:30 Friday afternoon in the public library. Routine business will be transacted.

The postponed meeting of the Women's Relief Corps will be held Friday afternoon in the legion building. The regular meeting night was last Friday but the gathering was postponed a week because of the absence of a number of members.

Behler and sons Jack and Urban and Mrs. Charles Forbes and daughter Jane of Casper, Wyo., who are spending several weeks at the Welfenbach home, spent Wednesday afternoon and evening at Percy Shambler's cottage at Shore Acres, on Lake Winnebago. The time was spent in swimming and dancing.

KILGAS' HURLING BEATS
LEGION IN 7 TO 2 GAME

Kaukauna—The Legion dropped a 7 to 2 Twilight league baseball game to the Royals Wednesday evening. Kilgas occupied the mound for the winners and was very effective, allowing only five singles and fanning 10 batters. He walked three men. Hass tolled on the knoll for the legion and allowed seven hits and struck out three hitters. Eight Royal batters were given transportation to first through Hass' wildness.

The legion scored once in the first frame and again in the last. The Royals copped a counter in the first two in the fourth and four in the fifth stanza.

MAKE ASSESSMENTS IN NEW SEWER PROJECTS

Following a trip to the locations of several new sewer projects Tuesday the board of public works assessed benefits and damages against the abutting properties. The assessments are on file in the city clerk's office and are open to inspection. The board will conduct a hearing on objections at the city hall at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Aug. 27.

Sewers are to be installed as follows: E. Water-st. 500 feet west; W. Oklahoma-st. 132 feet west of manhole; W. Third-st. S. Locust-st. to S. Story-st.; S. Douglas-st. W. Spencer-st. to W. Lawrence-st.

STAGE And SCREEN

"CHEAP KISSES"

Ardell Kendall was a show girl, but not the usual show girl type. She longed for a cottage in the country, with chickens in the yard and hollyhocks on the back porch.

Ardell married the son of a millionaire and got her cottage and her chickens—when her husband's parents snatched her from her humble abode, putting her into a wild, jazzy atmosphere of cocktails and petting parties, gin and leach flirtations.

What happened to Ardell? "Cheap Kisses," a smashing, punchy drama of life today tells.

This great photoplay comes to the Fischer's Appleton Theatre on Friday and Saturday, and you will not want to miss it. Ardell might have been YOUR daughter, or YOUR wife. Her problems were the problems that confront thousands of young people to day.

The solution of these problems is of interest to everyone and it is told in a highly colorful and interesting way in "Cheap Kisses."

Lillian Rich is cast as the show girl, Cullen Landis is her husband, and other members of the cast are Vera Reynolds, Phillip Smalley, Louise Dresser, Jean Hersholt, Bessie Eyton, Lincoln Stedman, Kathleen Myers, Sydney De Gray, Michael Dark and Tom Ricketts.

Also Aesops Fables, a Spat Family comedy, news and organogue.

BRILLIANT DRAMATIC ROMANCE OF A BANK CASHIER AS DESERT CHIEFTAIN

From bank cashier to sheik is the amazing jump in the fortunes of the hero in "When the Desert Calls," at the new Bijou theatre Friday and Saturday.

There are sheiks and sheiks, but he is a new kind of desert chieftain and shows that an American sheik is mightiest of them all. El-Din he calls himself and is mistaken by many for a son of Araby, although he is Eldred Caldwell, formerly of the Anglo-American bank in a city on the edge of the Sahara in Northern Africa.

How he makes the change, and why, constitutes one of the most original stories of the screen. For it is not every day that even a daring son of Uncle Sam can forsake a swivel chair for the back of a fley steed—and get away with it. Eldred Caldwell proves himself more at home in the desert than in the bank, for on the sands he is master of every peril, whereas at his desk he is the innocent victim of a plot which brands him a forger and sends him, a broken man, across the burning waste in quest of forgetfulness; and as the sheik El-Din he performs acts of courage which single him out for recognition by the British government.

COLLEEN MOORE IN ZIEGFELD'S "SALLY"

To most theatre-goers the appearance of a star in a Ziegfeld play means just one thing—the best of the test of "glorification" for which this noted producer is famed.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed
External treatments seldom cure Piles.
Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation.
The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Schmitz Bros. Co., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. adv.

STUDIES LAW TO AIR HER IN WORK AS SOCIOLOGIST

Law Student at University Comes Here to Study Delinquency

Miss Cornelia Helse, Madison, a graduate in sociology of the University of Wisconsin and now a student at the school of law at the university has been in the city several days studying probation and investigating delinquent cases in Appleton. Miss Helse is handicapped in securing the desired information because of the death of Judge A. M. Spencer, from whom she ordinarily received information.

Miss Helse received a degree in sociology and has completed one year in the law school at Madison. She does not intend to enter the law profession but she believes that the legal study would help her in her social work. Miss Helse, with four other students of the university, is visiting 32 counties in the state, endeavoring to learn about juvenile delinquency in each county. It is handled, and the relation between the county and state administrations of probation. The other students are Miss Elizabeth A. Badger of Florida; A. D. Vetsch of Pennsylvania and A. G. Barry of Madison.

As part of her work, Miss Helse is visiting six counties, including Jefferson, Fond du Lac, Winnebago, Outagamie, Waupaca and Shawano. When she has completed these counties she will go to Milwaukee to study the county with some other member of the group. Francis H. Hiller is field secretary of the National Probation Association and is directing the study for the state board of control.

Miss Helse discussed the work of several girls, all graduates of the Wisconsin Law school. Miss Dorothy Walker, a graduate with the class of 1920, is district attorney of Columbia and Miss Helse said she believed Miss Walker was the only woman district attorney in the United States and the school is proud of her. Miss Cecelia Doyle of Fond du Lac is in practice with her father, T. L. Doyle of Fond du Lac, and Miss Miriam L. Frey has been taken into the firm of Thompson and Greenwood, a well known firm in Oshkosh.

Ten girls are taking the legal course at the university. Miss Helse stated, she said, even though men usually are considered the best lawyers, women are interested in this line of work. Miss Helse said she did not intend to practice law but would go into juvenile work. She is president of Kappa Beta Pi, a national law society, which is similar to legal fraternities for men. Miss Cecelia Doyle has been selected to succeed Miss Helse as president next year.

Badger Archeologists Chart Indian Mounds In State

Archeological surveys and researches, to be published for the benefit of archeologists throughout the country, are being conducted by members of the Wisconsin Archeological society in several counties of the state.

In Kenosha county, the work of locating and mapping Indian remains is being carried on by C. W. Beecher. In Pierce county, Frank Thomson is doing similar work for the society. Dr. W. G. McLachlan has completed a survey of the Indian earthworks and village sites of the rich Lake Kegonsa region near Madison. The survey of Columbia county has been completed by H. E. Cole and Charles E. Brown, with E. A. Gilman and T. W. English also active in the work.

IN WINNEBAGO COUNTY
George Overton is continuing his explorations in Winnebago county. Exploration parties are soon to take the field in other counties. The work will include investigation of several Indian mounds.

The preservation and marking of Indian mounds and sites is being continued under the direction of the state society in a number of localities. A bear effigy in Devils Lake tablet during the present month. An unveiling ceremony is being arranged for the occasion. At Rice Lake the acquisition of new city park has caused the preservation of an interesting group of Indian burial mounds. These will be restored and marked by the Rotary club of that city.

The society has requested of the Lake Lawn Hotel company, at Delavan lake the preservation of the mounds of a once remarkable group of nearly 100 mounds on its lake shore property. Each year for a number of years a few more mounds of this fine group of prehistoric Indian monuments have been destroyed.

ASK HELP OF ROTARIANS
The Delavan Rotary club has been requested to undertake the preservation and marking of a smaller group of mounds near the lake outlet. A bird mound in this group is particularly interesting. The preservation and marking of a mound located at Mauston is also receiving consideration. In this department of its work for the public, the state society asks the assistance of all civic and historical organizations in Wisconsin.

George Smith of the firm of Smith and Brandt went to Crandon Tuesday to be present at the opening of bids for the construction of the Crandon graded school. Mr. Smith's firm drew the plans for the building.

BADGER NAMED INDIAN LEADER

E. G. Donner Assumes Charge of Menominee Reservation
as Superintendent

E. G. Donner, newly appointed superintendent of the Menominee Indian Reservation, has arrived at Neopit to assume his duties, according to word received here.

Mr. Donner, originally a Wisconsin boy, claiming Monroe as his birthplace, has been in the Indian service for many years, most of which was spent in the West. He leaves the superintendency of the Idaho Reservation for the office at Neopit. Mr. Donner succeeds E. A. Allen, who was transferred on June 1, after fifteen years at Neopit, to a Minnesota reservation. During June and July the Menominee reserve was under the supervision of John Pohland, temporary superintendent.

The Menominee reserve is one of the largest and most important in the middle west. It contains 2500 inhabitants most of whom have settled near the communities of Neopit and Keshena. The majority of the Indians make a living by farming, the profits from which they supplement now and then by day labor on the highway construction and maintenance crews, the logging gangs and the sawmill force.

Logging has become the principal industry of the reservation, which contains some of the finest hemlock timber left standing in the northern middle west. During the last two seasons, it is said, approximately 9,000,000 feet of hemlock have been taken from the reservation. The profits from the lumbering operations go into the reservation fund for distribution among the tribesmen. Catering to the needs of tourists also supplies money to the Indians. The Menominee reserve is made much of by summer vacationists since the beauty of its scenery is unsurpassed in any part of the state. Six streamable streams wander through it, the picturesque Wolf with its miles of rapids and waterfalls notable among them.

"this luncheon will cost you more, Bill!"

Bigger meals—better digestion

The Buyer had been at lunch with this Salesman many times before. "This lunch will cost you more today, Bill," he said to his visitor.

"How is that?" the other smiled. "Well, I've found a way to fix that old indigestion of mine—by eating Life Saver Pep-o-mints. They've certainly helped me a lot."

It sounds very simple and old-fashioned. But Pep-o-mint Life Savers really do the trick. Try them after meals when that heavy, lousy feeling comes over you—or to relieve that irritating distress of indigestion. Pep-o-mint is displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself; also Wint-o-green, Cinn-o-mint, Lic-o-rite, Clo-o-ve and Vi-o-let. Five cents a package—Life Savers, Inc., Port Chester, N. Y.

U. S. APPROVES BRIDGE PLANS

Menasha Officials to Make Inspection Tour Before
Construction Is Started

Menasha—Official sanction for the construction of the new draw bridge over the Fox river in this city has been received by city officials from government officials in Washington. The proposed bridge will be a lift type, much wider than the present swing bridge and of the latest type. A committee of the council will leave soon for a tour of inspection of bridges similar to the one to be built here. It is estimated that the new Menasha bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

Menasha—The Menasha chapter of the Catholic Daughters will be well represented at the picnic Saturday which is to be held on the Morgan farm a few miles south of Oshkosh. Reservations are being made for the occasion which is the annual outing of the society.

The Ladies' sewing circle of Trinity Lutheran church met Wednesday afternoon in the school hall on Broad st. The afternoon was spent in a social manner.

Mrs. Rudolph Meyer will entertain the Jolly Nine club Thursday evening in her home on Third st. The evening will be spent in playing schafkopf.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Walter, Mrs. and Mrs. John Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walter, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hrubesky and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce attended a dinner Wednesday evening in Hotel Athearn, Oshkosh, given in honor of Mrs. Jane Tabor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tabor and William Tabor of Los Angeles, Calif. The Tabor family are visiting at the Walter home.

Forty-five people were entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Mary Walbrun in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Walbrun, Taycoast, in honor of Miss Catherine Belenstein, of Neenah, who is soon to be married. The evening was spent with cards. Prizes at schafkopf were awarded to Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. C. Linscott, Mrs. C. Geesem and Mrs. A. Berndt. In a bucco prize was awarded to Miss Celia Quella of Appleton; Miss Lucille Shea and Miss Tena Resch and in the guessing contest to Mrs. E. Schifferling. A mock marriage was a feature of the evening's entertainment. Among those present were Mrs. Mary Quella and Mrs. Joseph Quella of Appleton and Miss Clara Quella of Kaukauna.

Menasha—A patent on a machine for forming mountings for tubular articles has been granted to Paul Strange, manager of the John Strange Paper Mill company of this city. The patent was reported by Young & Young, patent attorneys of Milwaukee.

WOODENWARE SCOUTS HIKE TO SCOUT CAMP

Menasha—Boy Scouts of Wooden Ware troops Nos. 9 and 10 are preparing for a hike Saturday to the Valley Council camp near the town of Harrison. Carl Walker will be in charge of the troops on this trip which is about 14 miles and will enable the boys to hike out over hills. Arrangements for the winter sessions will be completed at a dinner to be served Tuesday evening in the Wooden Ware dining room.

SEEK PARKING PLACE FOR EMPLOYEES' CARS

Menasha—What to do for a parking place for cars owned by people employed in mills and factories near the Washington-st bridge is a matter which will sooner or later come to the attention of city officials. At the present time the new bridge over the Fox river is being used as a parking place, cars being left all day on both sides, sometimes almost half the length of the structure which causes a narrow space for traffic which is very heavy over the particular bridge. It is about the only place for parking in that vicinity.

ONE GAME LEFT

Menasha—Three of the final events in the Menasha tennis tournament were played Wednesday in which Gear defeated Remmel; Saecker defeated Cory and Rogatz defeated Mueller. This leaves the finals of the Rev. J. Best-R. C. Miller contest to be played off which will complete the tournament schedule.

RAISE ENOUGH MONEY TO SEND MUSIC TO FAIR

West End Merchants First to Subscribe Quota, C. of C.
Is Told

A report informing the board of directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce that most of the money had been collected from the business men for financing the expense of having the Artillery band play at the symphony fair on Appleton day, Aug. 26, was made at the directors meeting Wednesday. W. College-ave merchants have already contributed their quota, but no complete report could be made on the remainder due to the fact that a number of businessmen are away on vacations.

Although there will be no county fair festival this year, owing to a number of activities this year, chamber of commerce is laying plans for a big farmers' picnic next year. An effort will be made to obtain the Army G for dinner, provided kitchen facilities are installed by that time. Maj. Lothar Graef is collaborating estimates of the cost of making the necessary installations. The manner of financing them, if the project meets with approval, will be discussed later.

CHAIRMAN IS ILL

No complete report could be made on the Appleton industrial exhibits at the coming Wisconsin Products exposition at Milwaukee this fall, owing to the illness of E. H. Jennings, chairman of the committee on industry and transportation. A meeting of that committee will be held soon.

The board of directors was informed that the members had been acclaimed associate members of the Arbitration, Inc., an organization enlisting voluntary arbitration in industrial disputes. A letter from the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States asked for the name of the president and those of leading business men in connection with a plan for the comprehensive treatment in Philadelphia on the subject of industrial relations. Suggestions enlisting the cooperation of members for the improvement of attendance records in schools and other educational endeavors, received from the chief of the educational division of the national chamber, were referred to Ben J. Rohan, city superintendent of schools.

A reply was received from the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Tidewater association offering their publicity service on matters affecting an international canal to improve navigation on this water route and the communication was referred to the committee on industry and transportation.

A report was received from the committee on arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the Wisconsin Press association during their recent stay here. The local chamber's resolution of sympathy and tribute to the late Governor Emanuel L. Philipp, former president of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, were acknowledged by L. C. Whitte, executive director of the Milwaukee association, and announcement was made that the resolution of sympathy had been transferred to the Philipp family.

STEVENS POINT CAR TAKEN BY THIEVES

Appleton police are interested in a report of a car theft in Stevens Point Wednesday night. Automobile thefts have been numerous in that part of the state within the last week and it is believed that all of the thefts may have since connection with the theft of a Rickenbacker car here that was recovered this week at Wausau. The car stolen from Stevens Point is a Willys-Knight sedan painted dark blue, bearing license number 99282-D and equipped with six balloon tires.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back, Says Voigt's Drug Store

Simple Home Treatment that is Giving Amazing Results.

The world progresses. Today ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunions you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is also a marvelous healing agent. One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruption to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. Voigt's Drug Store sells lots of it.

BURGLARS SENT TO REFORMATORY

Youths Arrested After Breaking Into Neenah Home Go to Prison

Neenah—George Browne, 22, negro, and Harry Gorsline, 17, white, both claiming Detroit as their homes, were sentenced to indeterminate terms of from one to three years in the State reformatory in Green Bay at Oshkosh Wednesday.

The two recently pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary on the night of July 31, of the home of William Booth in Neenah. Brown and Gorsline were arrested in Neenah after they had been reported as having been seen near the Booth home. They looted the place of property valued at $75 during the absence of the Booth family. They claimed that they had arrived in this vicinity with the Ringling circus which showed in Appleton.

PAROLE VIOLATOR IS SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Neenah—Because he violated his parole, Albert Krueger, arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of being intoxicated and creating a disturbance, was sentenced to a term of 60 days in the Winnebago workhouse Thursday morning. Louis Wilson, a transient, arrested on a similar charge, was sentenced to 10 days in the same institution by Justice Baldwin.

K. C. EMPLOYMENT HEAD TRANSFERRED TO NEENAH

Neenah—Clyde Smith, employment man in the Kimberly-Clark mills in Kimberly for several years, has been transferred to the Neenah office where he will have a similar position. Mr. Smith will have charge of hiring all help for the Badger-Globe, Neenah and Cellulose mills of the company in this city.

FORMER BEAR CREEK MAN IS DEAD AT NEENAH

Neenah—Rasmus Sorenson, 66, a resident of Neenah for the last eight years, died Wednesday afternoon of complication of disease. Mr. Sorenson was born in Denmark. He settled in Bear Creek about 20 years ago. He is survived by his widow, five daughters, Mrs. A. C. Nelson of Monroe, Wash.; Mrs. Anton Jensen, Mrs. Elmer Sorenson and Misses Sylvia and Ethel Sorenson of Neenah, one son, Peter Sorenson of Seattle, Wash.; a sister and a brother, Mrs. Charles Hanson of Clintonville and Oscar Sorenson of Oshkosh. A short funeral service will be conducted at 10:30 Friday morning by the Rev. Mr. Hanson of Our Savior church in the Sorenson chapel after which the body will be taken to Bear Creek for burial.

BUCK ARRANGES SURPRISE DINNER FOR ROTARY

Neenah—A picnic dinner prepared by Chef Hart of the Neenah club was all ready and waiting in Riverside park Thursday noon, for members of the Rotary club. The picnic dinner was a surprise arranged by Cub Buck, secretary, who had the members gathered at Valley Inn as usual where they secured their tickets but instead of going into the dining room they were ushered through the side door to a bus which was in waiting and driven to the park. Following the dinner, games were played. A vote of thanks was given Cub for his manner in which he entertained.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Mrs. Elizabeth Beisentein, Hewitt st., has issued invitations for the wedding of her daughter, Catherine, and Andrew Walbrun of Menasha. The ceremony will be performed at 9 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 18, in St. Patrick church. Services will be followed by a dinner in the Valley Inn.

BADGER BEEMEN VISIT CALUMET-CO APIARIES

Wisconsin beemen, who are now on their first tour of the state, will visit Calumet and Sheroogan co. apiaries Friday, Aug. 14. Four apiaries will also be inspected in Fond du Lac co. the same day.

The tour started at Janesville Tuesday morning when eight apiaries near Afton, Avoca, Milton and Edgerton were visited. Beekeepers in Jefferson, southern Dodge and northern Waukesha co., acted as hosts in the delegation Wednesday. An inspection trip was made Wednesday through the C. B. Lewis Geekware plant at Watertown.

A stop was made at the Diehl Bottling plant near Milwaukee Thursday where the proprietor demonstrated how honey is put up for the grocery trade.

SPEAKER SCORES HIGH COSTS OF STATE AFFAIRS

Compares Expenditures of Federal Government With Those of Wisconsin

Green Bay—Contrasting the expenditure of the federal government and the state government, W. L. Evans, Green Bay attorney, in an address here Wednesday before the Wisconsin Shoe Retailers' association convention, said that the paramount problem in Wisconsin "is to eliminate extravagance and waste in public expenditures."

The speaker lauded the economy of President Coolidge and criticized the administration at Madison because it did not follow his example. He declared federal expenditures were decreasing, while disbursements for Wisconsin jumped from $14,000,000 in 1919 to more than $30,000,000 in 1924.

Some of Green Bay's manufacturing institutions are insolvent as a result of the state taxation policy, Mr. Evans said. He asserted that "capital throughout the country knows that it is being discriminated against in Wisconsin."

Referring to the recent action of the University of Wisconsin board of regents in declining not to accept donations from incorporated endowments (the attorney said):

"The reason given for the regents' action was 'the soul of Wisconsin is not for sale.' Where was there ever more nonsense?"

"Who is to interpret the soul of Wisconsin? I would not wish to have our present rulers do it."

"I want to call to your attention some of the real tainted money in Wisconsin. It developed in one of the investigations last winter that a certain woman, prominent in administration circles, and in political work for the administration, had been made an oil inspector. There was nothing to indicate that her knowledge of oil was extensive, but she was made three or four inspections, taking two or three days and received something like $1,000."

"It also developed that many lawyers in Wisconsin, prominent in the ranks of the radicals, had been given from a few hundred to a few thousand dollars each for alleged legal work for the state of a few days duration. The state has an attorney general with many assistants. The services for which these lawyers were paid was really for their effort upon the stump in the political campaign to keep the members of the present administration in office."

MAY SEND DELEGATES TO WAUSAU MEETING

Representation at the state league of Building and Loan associations will be considered by the board of directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association at its meeting in the office of its secretary, George H. Beckley, Insurance-bldg Thursday evening.

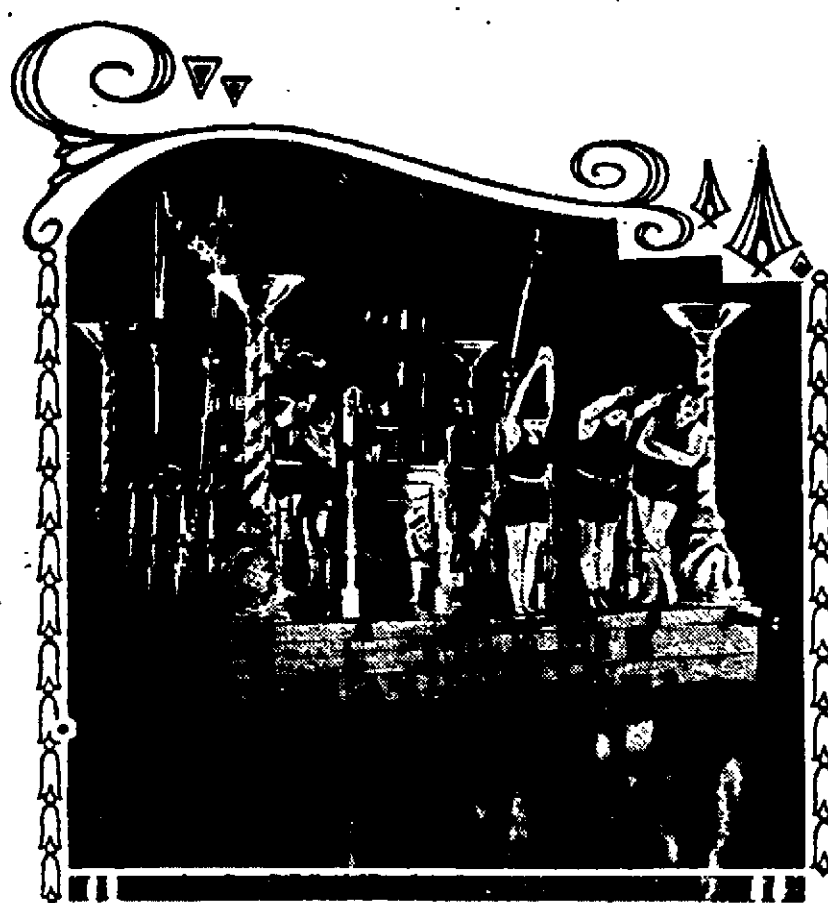

The state league will hold its annual meeting this year at Wausau. The dates are Sept. 22 and 23. It is expected that two or more officials of the Appleton association will be in attendance. A large delegation of Milwaukee members may make a stopover in Appleton to take lunch here, as Appleton is practically the halfway point between Milwaukee and Wausau.

Same Fine Studebaker Coach —but at a new low One-Profits price

BECAUSE all Studebaker cars are manufactured on the one-profit basis, we have been able to reduce the price of the Standard Six Coach without sacrificing any of the equipment or quality which made it a big seller at a higher price.

Scientific design, better materials, and finer workmanship distinguish it. And the following self-evident superiorities make it more up-to-date than the newest "yearly models":

Excess Power—According to the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce this is the most powerful car of its size and weight.

Abundant Room—Room to stretch your legs—room to enter or leave without disturbing occupant of folding seat.

Sturdy Body Construction—Fine northern ash and hard maple are used. We pay a premium to get the best quality steel.

Automatic Spark Control—eliminating the usual spark lever on steering wheel.

Safety Lighting Control—on the steering wheel.

Instruments—including 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, speedometer, oil-pressure gauge and ammeter, in single grouping under glass, on beautiful silver-faced dial.

Improved One-piece Windshield—automatic windshield cleaner, weather-proof visor, rear-view mirror, cowl lights and cowl ventilator.

Coincidental Lock—to ignition and steering wheel, which serves to reduce the theft insurance rate on Studebaker cars.

New-type Cowl Ventilator—foot operated.

There are only two cars manufactured on the one-profit basis—the Studebaker in the fine-car field, and the Ford in the low-price field. Only in these two cases does one company in its own plants and with its own centralized organization make all bodies, all engines, all clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings, and drop forgings.

Studebaker has no "yearly models," but instead keeps its cars constantly up to date. Therefore this Standard Six Coach is ahead of the newest "yearly model," yet owners are protected from the artificial depreciation which has cut millions of dollars from the resale value of many makes during the past 30 days.

DRUNKEN YOUTH TELLS WHERE HE OBTAINED DRINK

Leo Gaunt, Accused by Drunk, Arrested for Selling Moonshine

When Undersheriff Earl Schwartz was compelled to use his good right arm to knock a man "cold" in order to bring him in to the county jail, because the victim was so far under the influence of moonshine whiskey that he was "wild," literally speaking, Earl decided that the matter needed further investigation. The result of his investigation was that Leo Gaunt, town of Onelda, dance hall proprietor, appeared in municipal court Wednesday morning to answer to a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. He pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for Monday afternoon, Aug. 24.

The undersheriff was called to the dance hall one evening late last week to take Leon Wilson, town of Onelda, youth, into custody on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He found Wilson in a bad condition and fairly out of his head. After he had applied the aforementioned vigorous treatment to get his victim in to Appleton the youth told a rather disjointed story and later was the complainant against Gaunt. Gaunt denied the sale of liquor and contracted the youth's sworn statement against him Wednesday morning in municipal court.

Aged Man Weeps for Leniency
When He Changes Plea to Guilty

Twenty days in the county jail was the sentence meted out to Ferdinand Arndt, 68, 320 E. Atlantic-st., when he appeared before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday afternoon to answer to a charge of assault and battery brought up by his aged wife, Arndt, who had pleaded not guilty previously, broke down and wept as he changed his plea to guilty. He claimed it was the first time it had occurred and asked for leniency. Mrs. Arndt contradicted his statement, declaring that he had beaten her many times before.

Arndt is alleged to have beaten his wife, the sole support of the pair, so severely that she was confined to bed for some time because he thought

OWNER OF STOLEN CAR CALLS FOR PROPERTY

The Ford touring car stolen from John Olkowski of Three Lakes, was returned Wednesday morning to the owner when he came down here after it. The news of the recovery evidently was too good to seem true to him for when he received the message from the Appleton police he would not believe it was his own car until he was told the license and engine numbers.

The car was stolen from Three Lakes Saturday evening while Mr. Olkowski was in his home. He heard the car leave the garage but supposed that it was his brother-in-law taking the car, as he had asked for the vehicle. Knowledge of the theft was not gained until Sunday when his brother-in-law came to borrow the car.

IRVING ZUELK

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Gloria held her breath and listened. Her ear was pressed tight to the receiver.

Then Miss Briggs' voice came over the phone again. This time it was choky with tears.

"Tell me the truth... is Mr. Gregory going to die?" she asked brokenly.

"I don't think so. The crisis is past," Mrs. O'Hara answered, "but these heart complications are tricky things."

"How does that wife of his take it?" Miss Briggs asked.

Gloria frowned. What right had these two women to be talking about her and Dick in this way?

"Oh, don't ask me to figure Mrs. Gregory out! She's too deep for me!" she heard Mrs. O'Hara say. "She never comes near her husband's room."

but I can't get her to stir out of the house. I'll say this for her though: She's the prettiest thing I ever saw."

Miss Briggs sniffed.

"Do you think so?" she asked.

Stealthily Gloria hung up the receiver. She stood biting the pointed ends of her fingernails, thoughtfully.

Of course, Miss Briggs couldn't see that she was pretty! She was too jealous of her! She hated her because she was Dick's wife!

Why couldn't Miss Briggs see that it was her own fault that she hadn't been able to "land" Dick?

Gloria was sure that any woman could marry any man she chose to marry. All she had to do was to "wamp" him intelligently.

These women like Miss Briggs, who scorned a bit of honest make-up and a curling iron! What conceited simps they were!

No man was going to take the time to look past their colorless faces to find their beautiful souls. Not on your life!

And Miss Briggs with all her brains, hadn't sense enough to see that, Gloria decided.

She ran upstairs to her own room that had been the "spare" bedroom until Dick's illness.

As Mother Gregory had privately remarked to Maggie: "Anybody with a nose would know it was Gloria's room!" For it was fragrant with the smell of Gloria's favorite perfume and powder. The bed was heaped with tiny slumber-pillows, and an untidy pile of motion picture magazines littered the window seat.

It had always been the dream of Gloria's life to break into the movies. All she had to do was to get on the stage. The thought still lurked in the back of her mind teasingly.

She leaned over the dresser and held her face close to the mirror, so that the coppery sunshine of her hair brushed the glass.

How could Miss Briggs say she wasn't pretty? Why, she was beautiful!

Dick had always said so. So had Stan Wayburn!

The very thought of him was like sudden light to Gloria. Ten days ago she had made up her mind never to see him again. She had kept her mind on home and poor Dick. She had seen on one but the nurse, the doctor, and Mother Gregory.

And oh, but she was sick and tired of the four walls of the house! She needed cheering up, she told herself.

In a flash, Gloria's mind was made up.

She would see Stan Wayburn that very afternoon! She would call him up and ask him to take a walk with her. Surely there could be no harm in that.

Then, after that, she would never see him again—perhaps.

Gloria dressed to go out, with feverish haste.

When she was ready, she tried to slip quietly out of the house without letting Mother Gregory know she was going.

But Mother Gregory had X-ray eyes and the ears of a fox.

"Where are you going, Glory?" she called. "I want you to get some darning cotton for me at the store, if you're going out."

"Oh, the dickens!" Gloria remarked to herself. She didn't want Mother Gregory to see how she had dressed herself to go out to meet Stanley Wayburn. But there was no way out of it.

She dragged herself unwillingly into the sunroom. Mother Gregory had been darning Dick's socks and sewing buttons on his shirts, all day.

"Gloria," she asked now, "don't you ever do any mending for Dick?"

Gloria shook her head impudently.

"I don't know how to mend. My mother always kept my clothes in order for me," she said. "Now, when my stockings have holes in them, I throw them away... I hate darned stockings."

Mother Gregory set her lips firmly. "I've always said," she remarked, "that a lazy wife could throw more money into a rag bag and the garbage can than her husband could earn working night and day."

"I'm no worse than the rest of the women I know," Gloria defended herself.

"Then you know the wrong kind of women—you flapper wives aren't real wives!" replied Mother Gregory. She picked up the Bible that lay on the wicker table beside her. She opened it, and put on her glasses.

"Let me read you something," she said. "Listen to this... 'Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth trust her. She will do him good and not evil... She seeketh wool and flax and worketh willingly with her hands...'"

Gloria laughed.

"That's the bunk... that old stuff. Times have changed since the Bible was written," she said.

"That's where you're wrong," Gloria. Times haven't changed. They're just the same as they were in the days of King Solomon," Mother Gregory went on. "and it looks to me as if a virtuous woman is just as hard to find these days as she was thousands of years ago... Where are you going all dressed up, and covered with that nasty perfume you use?"

Gloria began to feel that in some uncanny way Mother Gregory knew that she was going out to telephone Stanley Wayburn to meet her.

"Is it tan darning cotton you wanted?" she evaded. "Like this?"

She bent to pick up a little piece that lay on the rug at Mother Gregory's feet.

Suddenly she felt Mother Gregory's hands on her shoulders. She looked up at her. The older woman's eyes were bright with tears.

"My dear," she said, "I talk to you this way only because I want this marriage of yours and Dick's to be a success... Let us try to be friends, you and I."

Gloria found herself facing the most surprising fact in human experience... the kindness of a person you believe to be thoroughly unkind!

She couldn't find a word to say. Finally she rose to her feet, and put the scrap of darning cotton into her purse. She went slowly out of the house into the sunny street.

HOME GROWN TOBACCO POPULAR IN CANADA

Montreal—Tobacco growers of Canada produced a crop of 18,710,740 pounds in 1924. Ontario planters had 13,275 acres in tobacco, producing 12,135,000 pounds, and Quebec growers had 5,435 acres in crop, which yielded 6,575,740 pounds, according to a report issued by the federal department of agriculture.

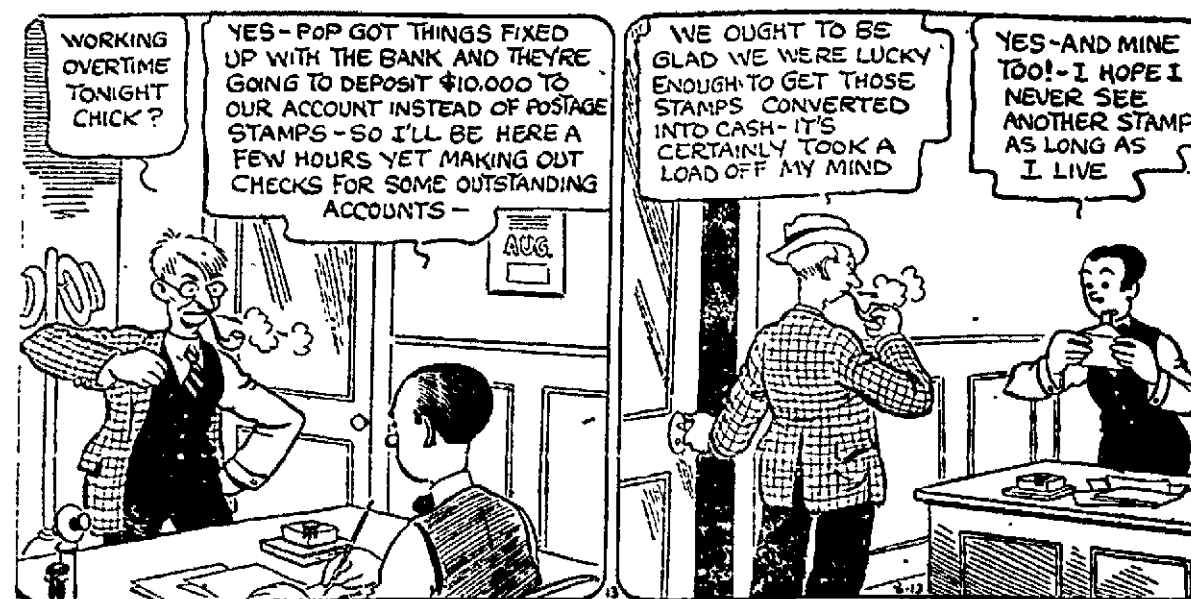

Of the total production, the report estimates that 15,000,000 pounds was shipped to Canadian cigar and tobacco factories for manufacture for domestic use. Exports of unmanufactured tobacco amounted to 2,820,216 pounds.

POST-CRESCENT LOSES THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

"Y" SQUAD TAKES HARD 5-4 BATTLE FROM LOOP HEADS

Bleier, Kotal Feature Win Over Fast-Slipping P-C's; Game to Be Protested

Standings	W	L	Pct.
Post-Crescent	9	4	.692
Y. M. C. A.	8	4	.667
Bankers	7	4	.636
Footfitters	4	5	.444
Meyer Press	3	8	.271
Chair Co.	2	9	.181

With Ted Bleier in rare form and Eddie Kotal, star of the Footfitters, pulling down ordinarily safe hits and starting on the paths, the strong "Y" M. C. A. team squeezed out a ninth inning win from the fast-slipping loop leaders, the Post-Crescents, in a twilight loop tilt Wednesday afternoon at Jones park, by a 5-4 count. The game pushed the "Y" above the Bankers into second place and tightened the race into a red-hot battle with any of the three leading crews having a chance to top. Only 36 points separate the three leaders. When the Bankers played the Meyer Press Friday night, they probably will go back into second, much closer to the P-C's, who must win all of their remaining games to hold the top rung. Wednesday's game was played under protest because of the use of spikes which is against the loop rules, by two "Y" men. The P-C crew was called for this earlier in the season. If the protest is allowed the loop-leaders have the pennant cornered.

The Trangles scored first in the initial round when Bleier socked a hot three bagger and came in a minute later, but the losers immediately tied the count. Two more runs gave the Printers a lead in the early stage of the game and each team counted again in the fifth. In the sixth and seventh the "Y" crew played desperate ball to garner a runpage for each frame. Both teams held hard in the eighth, fine fielding holding the score even. In the first of the ninth the winners stepped the final tally across the pan on good baseball and Bleier and his infielders held the Printers steady in the final frame.

Kotal, Bleier and Courtney played good ball for the winners while Edward Bentle and Hartzell starred for the loop-leaders. Wagner and Bleier both hurled men ball especially in the eighth. Batteries were: Y. M. C. A., Walter and Duffner; Post-Crescent, Wagner and Bentle.

ALL-AMERICAN BACK TO ENTER PRO FIELD

New York—Walter Frederick Koppisch, Columbia football captain for three years and a member of Walter Camp's all-American team last fall, has been signed to captain coach and play with the Buffalo professional football team.

Koppisch probably will receive about $3,500 for his work with the Buffalo team. Eddie Kaw, famous Cornell back of a few years ago, will be in the Buffalo backfield, and also Ben Roderick, another former Columbia player.

Koppisch is one of the greatest college gridirons to join the pros in face of amateur opposition.

E. W. BALL LOOP WINS FAVOR IN MICHIGAN CITIES

Green Bay, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, May, Help Form 8-club Loop in 1926

Fond du Lac—C. L. Prefontaine, secretary of the Eastern Wisconsin baseball league, received a letter from Mayor C. C. Cowpland of Ishpeming, Mich., inviting him to come to the Wolverine city to explain the constitution and operation of the league. The Ishpeming city official stated that city is contemplating a similar league for next year and the stories of the Eastern Wisconsin league has attracted his attention.

The letter from the Ishpeming mayor is only one of dozens which Mr. Prefontaine receives each week. Many cities in the state are beginning to clamor for home talent baseball and the local circuit has demonstrated that it can be run successfully, both for the teams and fans. Mr. Prefontaine stated that many cities have filed requests for admittance into the Eastern Wisconsin league next year. Green Bay is one of these cities and an endeavor is also being made to bring Sheboygan into the loop next year along with Manitowoc. Indications are that the Eastern Wisconsin will be at least an eight club circuit in 1926.

Every city in the league will start a city league of four teams next year to develop players for the regular team representing the city in the big wheel.

FONDY LABOR DAY CARD CALLED OFF

Brunkhorst Calls Off Big Boxing Show Until Latter Part of September

Fond du Lac—Jack Brunkhorst, local boxing promoter, announced today that he has given up all hope of staging an outdoor boxing show on Labor day for the benefit of the American Legion, the proceeds to go to the fund for sending the drum corps to the national convention at Omaha. Under the present rules, the cost of putting on such a bout would be hundreds of dollars more than an indoor fight program. This practically limits outdoor boxing to Milwaukee. "Brunk" definitely announced, however, that he will stage an indoor boxing show here the latter part of September. He will run this on his own finances, but any profits derived will go to the Legion. All the Legion members will have to do is get out and hustle with a few of the ticket sales.

The regular thirty rounds of boxing will be ditched up with possibly five fights on the card. No fighters have been signed to date, but several prominent pugilists in the state are under consideration. It is still a bit early for indoor boxing talk, but Brunkhorst figures that it will be plenty cool enough late in September. Besides, he wants to get the show run off before the drum corps leaves for Omaha, which will be in October.

ATLANTIC, PACIFIC TO BATTLE IN NET TOURNEY

Chicago—The National Junior tennis tournament singles may develop into a battle between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. Of the eight players who have survived four rounds, only two—Berkeley Bell, Texas, and Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, represent sections other than the east and west coasts. Cranston Holman, San Francisco and John Doer, Santa Monica Cal., must up hold western hopes against A. L. "Sandy" Wiener of Philadelphia, Tilden's protégé, Frank Luce, Boston, Malcolm Hill, Henry Johnson Waban, Mass.

The singles in the boys division brings together Walter Thomas, Elmora, N. J., Bertram Claster, Harrisburg, Pa.; A. Frank Shields, Y. Leroy Voorheis, Cincinnati.

rates around the initial corner. Not only has he been fielding well but his hitting has likewise been first-class. He's one of the old 1909 squad but still can play the pastime.

STAR INFIELDER IN HOSPITAL ON EVE OF BIG GAME

"Boots" Lamers, Old Paper-maker Infielder, May Replace Appendicitis Victim

Old man Jinx stepped out of his abode where he had been resting of late and camped on the trail of the Appleton ball club on Wednesday with the result that the fast-fielding infielder of the local crew, which had just begun to function in real style, was wrecked.

"Butch" Thein, heavy hitting third sacker of the Papermakers was taken to the hospital with an attack of acute appendicitis. The Kimberly lad was playing bangup ball at the look-in corner. "Boots" Lamers, former Appleton Fox River Valley loop star, probably will hold down the sack Sunday, according to Manager C. O. Baetz. Lamers is in great shape having just returned from a strenuous campaign with Stormy Kromer's Blytheville boys and should fill the gap without a falter. He is slugging the apple at a good pace. The result of the change in the smooth working infield, however, may be bad and the locals now expect a hard battle with the cellar champs, Campbellsport, on Sunday.

Manager Baetz also announced the acquisition of Heuer, an outfielder and relief hurler. The new man formerly hurled for Sturgeon Bay and probably will be used only for relief roles.

GOLF As Champions Play It

Should one "tap" the ball or "push" it in putting?

By WILLIAM MEHLHORN Western Open Champion, 1921

In putting, the ball is not pushed but hit with the wrists only. A fine, firm and crisp hit is necessary. The ball player does not push the ball but hits it. The putting stroke is very similar to the stroke in billiards.

MEYER PRESS, BANKERS IN TWILIGHT LOOP TILT

The Banker squad of the Twilight loop, challenger of the Post-Crescent crew for the top position, will try to crowd closer to its chief rival Friday afternoon when the Meyer Press team is taken on at Jones park. With first place in sight and the league drawing to a close the Bank crew will put up a big fight to win. When they hit the Pressmen, however, they will have to be "on" for that squad is coming to the front with a rush and would be a serious contender if the race were to run about two weeks longer than the regular schedule. Coincidentally the slab for the Meyer crew will have Euboltz, conqueror of the loop leaders in two battle this season, will hurl for the Bankers.

GOLFERS! HERE IS A CHANCE TO IMPROVE YOUR GAME!

The Post-Crescent has secured a limited number of booklets which will tell you how to correct the faults which prevent you from improving your score. The articles in this booklet were written by thirteen of the most famous golfers in the country and they are written in a way that the average golfer will understand them.

If you want this interesting little booklet on "Golf—As Champions Play It," send this advertisement with your name, address and ten cents in stamps to the Golf Editor of The Appleton Post-Crescent.

YANKS LATEST PURCHASE

ROY LEBUBE

Meet Roy Leubbe, star catcher of the Omaha club, Western league, who has been purchased by the New York Yankees. He's the leading backstop of the minor organization and a powerful slugger. Last year he hit .315, but this season has compiled a swatting mark of .371. He's 24 and got his first baseball experience on the Omaha sandlots. The reported purchase price was $12,500.

Consistency Big Thing In Sports Carlson Says

BY ART CARLSON Consistency of performance! That's the big item in sports. It makes for success in all branches of competitive athletics.

A consistent pastime always commands a big advantage when he takes the field. For not only is his ability known but he's certain to run or, at least, compete true to form.

Take Bobby Jones, for instance. The Atlanta artist is rated with the topnotchers in the golfing realm. Because he's consistent. His game varies but little. Day in and week out he shoots the same brand of pastime—close to par. Climate conditions, untimilarity with the layout and what not, matter naught to him. His play is consistent. And to a marked degree.

TILDEN IS ANOTHER Bill Tilden is another. "Tennis" Tilden, as he is sometimes called, displays the same superlative gameseason after season. It's virtually the same all the time. It's consistent.

Paddock, Hubbard, Osborne and others in billiards. Weissmuller in swimming and so on. They're all consistent in their respective fields.

With the baseball pitcher it's a bit different, however. He may have a record-breaking season one year. And a poor one the next. Few of them boast a stretch of winning campaigns in succession. Every now and then they turn up with a string of very mediocre performances.

True, there are exceptions. They are sprinkled here and there. Walter Johnson, for example, is one. Alexander's another. But they are few and far between as a rule.

In the American League last season there were but four hurlers who reached the "20-game" group in victories. They were Johnson, with 23 triumphs and seven defeats; Paddock, 21 and nine; Thurston, 20 and 14; and Shaute with 20 wins and 17 whippings.

In these stirring days of lively baseballs and heavy hitting, it is considered somewhat of a pitching feat to grab 20 victories in a season's play. In other words, it's out of the ordinary.

Where are these four "20-game" winners this season?

Outside of Johnson, the consistent.

all of them are far down the list. Pennock and Thurston are hanging pretty close to the 500-mark in the won and lost columns, so far removed from the "twenties" that nothing but a sensational spurt could place them in that class this year. Shaute is even further back, chalk-ing up but four victories in the first three and one-half months of play.

JOHNSON STANDS ALONE Of the quietest, Johnson alone stands a fairly good chance of being a repeater.

Consistency of performance—Johnson has it. In 17 complete seasons he has topped the 20-mark in victories on 11 occasions, twice getting above the 30-figure. Many of those campaigns he was toiling for a second-division outfit.

Finally, consistency of effort is the big thing in sports, no matter how you look at it.

BUCS INCREASE LEAD OVER MACS

Pirates Beat Giants Again, 5-3; Macks Gain in A. L. as Senators Are Idle

New York—The dogging footsteps of the New York Giants are becoming less distinct behind the flying hoofs of the Pittsburgh Pirates. At the same time the Cincinnati Reds are hanging breathlessly to the flanks of the Giants.

The Pirates Wednesday defeated the clan of McGraw, 5-3 and increased their lead in the race for the National League pennant honors.

Cincinnati lost to Brooklyn, 5 to 1, and St. Louis poked its head into the first division by gaining 9-2 and 8-4 decisions over the Phillies.

Boston and Chicago did not play. In the American League the Philadelphia Athletics gained a notch on their Capital city rivals, Washington, by winning from St. Louis 5 to 2, while rain washed away the Washington-Cleveland entertainment.

Boston, hopelessly last in the American League jeopardized the Tigers chances of finishing in the first division by handing the Bengals a decisive 7-2 wallop.

KENOSHA PAIR LEAD IN PRO-AMATEUR TOURNEY

Milwaukee—Jack Blakeslee, Kenosha professional, paired with the sharp shooting, Dick Cavanaugh, pulled up winners of the state pro-amateur best ball medal play at the Ozaukee country club with 66 five strokes under par.

The play Wednesday was the fore-runner of Thursday's 36 holes of medal play for the state open championship now held by Blakeslee, who burned up the Maple Bluff course at Madison, last year to win the event, and seems ready to outdistance his fellows this year.

The players got away shortly after 9 a. m. Thursday, through a light drizzle of rain.

The play of Blakeslee and Cavanaugh, brilliant as it was, took them into the lead over Guy Martin, Maple Bluff pro, and Phil Sanborn also of the Maple Bluff Club, by only three strokes.

Gothenburg, Sweden—Arne Borg, Swedish champion, claimed a world record when he swam a mile in 21 minutes 41 1/2 seconds.

Green Bay Packers Open 1925 Pro Grid Card With Star Iron Mountain Squad

Ederlitz, Former Oshkosh Normal Griddier, Brings Northerners to Bay Sept. 13

PACKERS SCHEDULE Sept. 13—Iron Mountain at Green Bay. Sept. 20—Hammond at Green Bay. Sept. 27—Chicago Bears at Green Bay. Oct. 4—Rock Island at Rock Island. Oct. 11—Milwaukee at Green Bay. Oct. 18—Rock Island at Green Bay. Oct. 25—Racine at Green Bay. Nov. 1—Milwaukee at Milwaukee. Nov. 8—Chicago Cardinals at Chicago. Nov. 15—Racine at Racine. Nov. 22—Chicago Bears at Chicago. Nov. 29—Pottsville at Pottsville, Pa. Nov. 28—Philadelphia at Philadelphia, Pa. Dec. 6—Providence at Providence. R. I.

FANS MUCH PLEASED Iron Mountain—Football fans in this city are much pleased over the announcement by Manager Ederlitz that Iron Mountain would give the Green Bay Packers a taste of Upper Michigan football at the Bay on Sunday, Sept. 13.

This city is football crazy this fall as every indication points to a winning team. Practice will start on Sept. 1 and Manager Ederlitz expects to have several imported gridiron stars here by that time.

Plans are now under way to run a special excursion to Green Bay for Sept. 13 as it is figured that at least 500 loyal rooters will journey down to Greenville for the pigskin fest.

Green Bay—The Packers schedule for 1925 was completed this week when Iron Mountain, Mich., football officials accepted the terms of the Green Bay management for a game here on Sept. 13. It will be the opening engagement of the Big Bay Blues season and the only non-league contest on the out-line for this fall.

Iron Mountain is going to have the strongest team in the Upper peninsula this fall. "Jocky" Ederlitz, former Oshkosh Normal star, who coaches the Iron Mountain high schoolers, is running the club this season. Ederlitz is a product of Menominee high and back in the olden days when the Mar-Menominee Twins mixed with the Packers. Ederlitz was always one of the "aces" for the Northerners.

HAD FIRST-CLASS TEAM In 1924, Iron Mountain had a first class football machine. Ironwood only beat them 7 to 0 while Iron Mountain stepped all over the Hibbing Miners besides winning a lot of other games.

This year, the natives of Iron Mountain have raised a "pot" of $3,000 to win the football championship of the Upper Peninsula.

Los Angeles, Cal.—William Spaulding, former University of Minnesota football coach was expected to reach here Thursday to take up his new duties as Gridiron mentor at the University of California, southern Branch. He has been making the trip to the coast by automobile. The first call for football material is to be issued Sept. 15, two days after the opening of registration for the term.

EDERLE, HARRISON WORK FOR BIG SWIM

By Associated Press Boulogne, France—Both girls who aspire to the honor of swimming across the English channel are again engaged in training for the feat, and swimming fans may have the satisfaction of seeing them, attempting to make their crossing at the same time August 18, or thereabouts.

Miss Gertrude Ederle of New York who was to have started last week, has completely recovered from the slight indisposition which prevented her attempt.

Miss Lillian Harrison of Buenos Ayres, who announced while in a state of collapse after her unsuccessful fourth attempt on Monday that she would not try again, now says she will.

Those who have watched Miss Ederle's activities are certain that she has a splendid chance of performing the feat. Her strong physique continues to attract much attention. A doctor who examined Miss Ederle yesterday was amazed at her chest expansion of more than seven inches.
